(IN MALAY)

12th May, 1950.

6th May, 1950.

An Ordinance to unify within the Malay States the law relating to Contracts.

[23rd May, 1950.]

IT IS HEREBY ENACTED by the High Commissioner of the Federation of Malaya and Their Highnesses the Rulers of the Malay States with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council as follows:

Short title and application.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be cited as the Contracts (Malay States) Ordinance, 1950, and shall apply within the Malay States only.

(2) Nothing herein contained shall affect the provisions of any Ordinance or Enactment or any usage or custom of trade, or any incident of any contract, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Ordinance.

Interpretation.

2. In this Ordinance the following words and expressions are used in the following senses, unless a contrary intention appears from the context—

- (a) when one person signifies to another his willingness to do or to abstain from doing anything, with a view to obtaining the assent of that other to such act or abstinence, he is said to make a proposal;
- (b) when the person to whom the proposal is made signifies his assent thereto, the proposal is said to be accepted: a proposal, when accepted, becomes a promise;
- (c) the person making the proposal is called the "promisor", and the person accepting the proposal is called the "promisee";
- (d) when, at the desire of the promisor, the promisee or any other person has done or abstained from doing, or does or abstains from doing, or promises to do or to abstain from doing, something, such act or abstinence or promise is called a consideration for the promise;
- (e) every promise and every set of promises, forming the consideration for each other, is an agreement;

- (f) promises which form the consideration or part of the consideration for each other are called reciprocal promises;
- (g) an agreement not enforceable by law is said to be void;
- (h) an agreement enforceable by law is a contract;
- (i) an agreement which is enforceable by law at the option of one or more of the parties thereto, but not at the option of the other or others, is a voidable contract;
- (j) a contract which ceases to be enforceable by law becomes void when it ceases to be enforceable.

CHAPTER I

OF THE COMMUNICATION, ACCEPTANCE, AND REVOCATION OF PROPOSALS.

3. The communication of proposals, the acceptance of proposals, and the revocation of proposals and acceptances, respectively, are deemed to be made by any act or omission of the party proposing, accepting, or revoking, by which he intends to communicate such proposal, acceptance, or revocation, or which has the effect of communicating it.

Communication, acceptance, and revocation of proposals.

4. (1) The communication of a proposal is complete when it comes to the knowledge of the person to whom it is made.

Communication, when complete.

(2) The communication of an acceptance is complete—

(a) as against the proposer, when it is put in a course of transmission to him, so as to be out of the power of the acceptor;

(b) as against the acceptor, when it comes to the knowledge of the proposer.

(3) The communication of a revocation is complete—

(a) as against the person who makes it, when it is put into a course of transmission to the person to whom it is made, so as to be out of the power of the person who makes it;

What is a sound mind for the purposes of contracting.

12. (1) A person is said to be of sound mind for the purpose of making a contract if, at the time when he makes it, he is capable of understanding it and of forming a rational judgment as to its effect upon his interests.

(2) A person who is usually of unsound mind, but occasionally of sound mind, may make a contract when he is of sound mind.

(3) A person who is usually of sound mind, but occasionally of unsound mind, may not make a contract when he is of unsound mind.

Illustrations.

(a) A patient in a mental hospital, who is at intervals of sound mind, may contract during those intervals.

(b) A sane man, who is delirious from fever, or who is so drunk that he cannot understand the terms of a contract, or form a rational judgment as to its effect on his interests, cannot contract whilst such delirium or drunkenness lasts.

"Consent"
defined.

13. Two or more persons are said to consent when they agree upon the same thing in the same sense.

14. Consent is said to be free when it is not caused by—

- (a) coercion, as defined in section 15 of this Ordinance; or
- (b) undue influence, as defined in section 16 of this Ordinance; or
- (c) fraud, as defined in section 17 of this Ordinance; or
- (d) misrepresentation, as defined in section 18 of this Ordinance; or
- (e) mistake, subject to the provisions of sections 21, 22, and 23 of this Ordinance.

Consent is said to be so caused when it would not have been given but for the existence of such coercion, undue influence, fraud, misrepresentation, or mistake.

"Coercion"
defined.

15. "Coercion" is the committing, or threatening to commit, any act forbidden by the Penal Code, or the unlawful detaining or threatening to detain, any property, to the prejudice of any person whatever, with the intention of causing any person to enter into an agreement.

Explanation.—It is immaterial whether the Penal Code is or is not in force in the place where the coercion is employed.

Illustration.

A., on board an English ship on the high seas, causes B. to enter into an agreement by an act amounting to criminal intimidation under the Penal Code.

A. afterwards sues B. for breach of contract at Taiping.

A. has employed coercion, although his act is not an offence by the law of England, and although section 506 of the Penal Code was not in force at the time when or place where the act was done.

16. (1) A contract is said to be induced by “undue influence” where the relations subsisting between the parties are such that one of the parties is in a position to dominate the will of the other and uses that position to obtain an unfair advantage over the other.

“Undue influence” defined.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing principle, a person is deemed to be in a position to dominate the will of another—

(a) where he holds a real or apparent authority over the other, or where he stands in a fiduciary relation to the other; or

(b) where he makes a contract with a person whose mental capacity is temporarily or permanently affected by reason of age, illness, or mental or bodily distress.

(3) Where a person who is in a position to dominate the will of another, enters into a contract with him, and the transaction appears, on the face of it or on the evidence adduced, to be unconscionable, the burden of proving that such contract was not induced by undue influence shall lie upon the person in a position to dominate the will of the other.

Nothing in this sub-section shall affect the provisions of section 111 of the Evidence Ordinance, 1950.

Ord. No. 11 of 1950.

Illustrations.

(a) A. having advanced money to his son, B., during his minority, upon B.’s coming of age, obtains, by misuse of parental influence, a bond from B. for a greater amount than the sum due in respect of the advance. A. employs undue influence.

(b) A., a man enfeebled by disease or age, is induced, by B.’s influence over him as his medical attendant, to agree to pay B. an unreasonable sum for his professional services. B. employs undue influence.

(c) A., being in debt to B., the money-lender of his village, contracts a fresh loan on terms which appear to be unconscionable. It lies on B. to prove that the contract was not induced by undue influence.

(d) A. applies to a banker for a loan at a time when there is stringency in the money market. The banker declines to make the loan except at an unusually high rate of interest. A. accepts the loan on these terms. This is a transaction in the ordinary course of business, and the contract is not induced by undue influence.

defined.

17. "Fraud" includes any of the following acts committed by a party to a contract, or with his connivance, or by his agent, with intent to deceive another party thereto or his agent, or to induce him to enter into the contract—

- (a) the suggestion, as to a fact, of that which is not true by one who does not believe it to be true;
- (b) the active concealment of a fact by one having knowledge or belief of the fact;
- (c) a promise made without any intention of performing it;
- (d) any other act fitted to deceive;
- (e) any such act or omission as the law specially declares to be fraudulent.

Explanation.—Mere silence as to facts likely to affect the willingness of a person to enter into a contract is not fraud, unless the circumstances of the case are such that, regard being had to them, it is the duty of the person keeping silence to speak, or unless his silence is, in itself, equivalent to speech.

Illustrations.

(a) A. sells, by auction, to B., a horse which A. knows to be unsound. A. says nothing to B. about the horse's unsoundness. This is not fraud in A.

(b) B. is A.'s daughter and has just come of age. Here, the relation between the parties would make it A.'s duty to tell B. if the horse is unsound.

(c) B. says to A., "If you do not deny it, I shall assume that the horse is sound." A. says nothing. Here, A.'s silence is equivalent to speech.

(d) A. and B., being traders, enter upon a contract. A. has private information of a change in prices which would affect B.'s willingness to proceed with the contract. A. is not bound to inform B.

18. "Misrepresentation" includes—

"Misrepresentation" defined.

- (a) the positive assertion, in a manner not warranted by the information of the person making it, of that which is not true, though he believes it to be true;
- (b) any breach of duty which, without an intent to deceive, gives an advantage to the person committing it, or anyone claiming under him, by misleading another to his prejudice, or to the prejudice of anyone claiming under him;
- (c) causing, however innocently, a party to an agreement to make a mistake as to the substance of the thing which is the subject of the agreement.

19. When consent to an agreement is caused by coercion, fraud, or misrepresentation, the agreement is a contract voidable at the option of the party whose consent was so caused.

Voidability of agreements without free consent.

A party to a contract, whose consent was caused by fraud or misrepresentation, may, if he thinks fit, insist that the contract shall be performed, and that he shall be put in the position in which he would have been if the representations made had been true.

Exception.—If such consent was caused by misrepresentation or by silence, fraudulent within the meaning of section 17, the contract, nevertheless, is not voidable, if the party whose consent was so caused had the means of discovering the truth with ordinary diligence.

Explanation.—A fraud or misrepresentation which did not cause the consent to a contract of the party on whom such fraud was practised, or to whom such misrepresentation was made, does not render a contract voidable.

Illustrations.

(a) A., intending to deceive B., falsely represents that five hundred gantangs of indigo are made annually at A.'s factory, and thereby induces B. to buy the factory. The contract is voidable at the option of B.

(b) A., by a misrepresentation, leads B. erroneously to believe that five hundred gantangs of indigo are made annually at A.'s factory. B. examines the account of the factory, which show that only four hundred gantangs of indigo have been made. After this B. buys the factory. The contract is not voidable on account of A.'s misrepresentation.

(c) B., having discovered a vein of ore on the estate of A., adopts means to conceal, and does conceal, the existence of the ore from A. Through A.'s ignorance B. is enabled to buy the estate at an undervalue. The contract is voidable at the option of A.

(d) A. is entitled to succeed to an estate at the death of B.; B. dies; C., having received intelligence of B.'s death, prevents the intelligence reaching A., and thus induces A. to sell him his interest in the estate. The sale is voidable at the option of A.

Power to set aside contract induced by undue influence.

20. When consent to an agreement is caused by undue influence, the agreement is a contract voidable at the option of the party whose consent was so caused.

Any such contract may be set aside either absolutely or, if the party who was entitled to avoid it has received any benefit thereunder, upon such terms and conditions as to the Court may seem just.

Illustrations.

(a) A.'s son has forged B.'s name to a promissory note. B., under threat of prosecuting A.'s son, obtains a bond from A. for the amount of the forged note. If B. sues on this bond, the Court may set the bond aside.

(b) A., a money-lender, advances $100 to B., an agriculturist, and, by undue influence, induces B. to execute a bond for $200 with interest at 6 per cent. per month. The Court may set the bond aside, ordering B. to repay the $100 with such interest as may seem just.

Agreement void where both parties are under mistake as to matter of fact.

21. Where both the parties to an agreement are under a mistake as to a matter of fact essential to the agreement, the agreement is void.

Explanation.—An erroneous opinion as to the value of the thing which forms the subject-matter of the agreement is not to be deemed a mistake as to a matter of fact.

Illustrations.

(a) A. agrees to sell B. a specific cargo of goods supposed to be on its way from England to Klang. It turns out that, before the day of the bargain, the ship conveying the cargo had been cast away and the goods lost. Neither party was aware of the facts. The agreement is void.

(b) A. agrees to buy from B. a certain horse. It turns out that the horse was dead at the time of the bargain, though neither party was aware of the fact. The agreement is void.

(c) A., being entitled to an estate for the life of B., agrees to sell it to C. B. was dead at the time of the agreement, but both parties were ignorant of the fact. The agreement is void.

22. A contract is not voidable because it was caused by a mistake as to any law in force in the Federation; but a mistake as to a law not in force in the Federation has the same effect as a mistake of fact.

Effect of mistake as to law.

Illustration.

A. and B. make a contract grounded on the erroneous belief that a particular debt is barred by limitation: the contract is not voidable.

23. A contract is not voidable merely because it was caused by one of the parties to it being under a mistake as to a matter of fact.

Contract caused by mistake of one party as to matter of fact.

24. The consideration or object of an agreement is lawful, unless—

What considerations and objects are lawful, and what not.

- (a) it is forbidden by law; or
- (b) it is of such a nature that, if permitted, it would defeat the provisions of any law; or
- (c) it is fraudulent; or
- (d) it involves or implies injury to the person or property of another; or
- (e) the Court regards it as immoral, or opposed to public policy.

In each of these cases, the consideration or object of an agreement is said to be unlawful. Every agreement of which the object or consideration is unlawful is void.

Illustrations.

(a) A. agrees to sell his house to B. for $10,000. Here, B.'s promise to pay the sum of $10,000 is the consideration for A.'s promise to sell the house, and A.'s promise to sell the house is the consideration for B.'s promise to pay the $10,000. These are lawful considerations.

(b) A. promises to pay B. $1,000 at the end of six months, if C., who owes that sum to B., fails to pay it. B. promises to grant time to C. accordingly. Here the promise of each party is the consideration for the promise of the other party, and they are lawful considerations.

(c) A. promises, for a certain sum paid to him by B., to make good to B. the value of his ship if it is wrecked on a certain voyage. Here A.'s promise is the consideration for B.'s payment, and B.'s payment is the consideration for A.'s promise, and these are lawful considerations.

(d) A. promises to maintain B.'s child, and B. promises to pay A. $1,000 yearly for the purpose. Here the promise of each party is the consideration for the promise of the other party. They are lawful considerations.

(e) A., B., and C. enter into an agreement for the division among them of gains acquired, or to be acquired, by them by fraud. The agreement is void, as its object is unlawful.

(f) A. promises to obtain for B. an employment in the public service, and B. promises to pay $1,000 to A. The agreement is void, as the consideration for it is unlawful.

(g) A., being agent for a landed proprietor, agrees for money, without the knowledge of his principal, to obtain for B. a lease of land belonging to his principal. The agreement between A. and B. is void, as it implies a fraud by concealment, by A., on his principal.

(h) A. promises B. to drop a prosecution which he has instituted against B. for robbery, and B. promises to restore the value of the things taken. The agreement is void, as its object is unlawful.

(i) A.'s estate is sold for arrears of revenue under the provisions of an Ordinance, by which the defaulter is prohibited from purchasing the estate. B., upon an understanding with A., becomes the purchaser, and agrees to convey the estate to A. upon receiving from him the price which B. has paid. The agreement is void, as it renders the transaction, in effect, a purchase by the defaulter, and would so defeat the object of the law.

(j) A., who is B.'s solicitor, promises to exercise his influence, as such, with B. in favour of C., and C. promises to pay $1,000 to A. The agreement is void, because it is immoral.

(k) A. agrees to let her daughter to hire to B. for concubinage. The agreement is void, because it is immoral, though the letting may not be punishable under the Penal Code.

VOID AGREEMENTS.

Agreements void, if considerations and objects unlawful in part.

25. If any part of a single consideration for one or more objects, or any one or any part of any one of several considerations for a single object, is unlawful, the agreement is void.

Illustration.

A. promises to superintend, on behalf of B., a legal manufacture of indigo, and an illegal traffic in other articles. B. promises to pay to A. a salary of $10,000 a year. The agreement is void, the object of A.'s promise, and the consideration for B.'s promise, being in part unlawful.

26. An agreement made without consideration is void, unless—

Agreement without consideration, void, unless— it is in writing and registered;

(a) it is expressed in writing and registered under the law (if any) for the time being in force for the registration of such documents, and is made on account of natural love and affection between parties standing in a near relation to each other; or unless

(b) it is a promise to compensate, wholly or in part, a person who has already voluntarily done something for the promisor, or something which the promisor was legally compellable to do; or unless or is a promise to compensate for something done;

(c) it is a promise, made in writing and signed by the person to be charged therewith, or by his agent generally or specially authorised in that behalf, to pay wholly or in part a debt of which the creditor might have enforced payment but for the law for the limitation of suits.

In any of these cases, such an agreement is a contract.

Explanation 1.—Nothing in this section shall affect the validity, as between the donor and donee, of any gift actually made.

Explanation 2.—An agreement to which the consent of the promisor is freely given is not void merely because the consideration is inadequate; but the inadequacy of the consideration may be taken into account by the Court in determining the question whether the consent of the promisor was freely given.

Illustrations.

(a) A. promises, for no consideration, to give to B. $1,000. This is a void agreement.

(b) A., for natural love and affection, promises to give his son, B., $1,000. A. puts his promise to B. into writing and registers it under a law for the time being in force for the registration of such documents. This is a contract.

(c) A. finds B.'s purse and gives it to him. B. promises to give A. $50. This is a contract.

(d) A. supports B.'s infant son. B. promises to pay A.'s expenses in so doing. This is a contract.

(e) A. owes B. $1,000, but the debt is barred by limitation. A. signs a written promise to pay B. $500 on account of the debt. This is a contract.

(f) A. agrees to sell a horse worth $1,000 for $10. A.'s consent to the agreement was freely given. The agreement is a contract notwithstanding the inadequacy of the consideration.

(g) A. agrees to sell a horse worth $1,000 for $10. A. denies that his consent to the agreement was freely given.

The inadequacy of the consideration is a fact which the Court should take into account in considering whether or not A.'s consent was freely given.

Agreement
in restraint of marriage
void.

27. Every agreement in restraint of the marriage of any person, other than a minor during his or her minority, is void.

Agreement
in restraint
of trade
void.

28. Every agreement by which anyone is restrained from exercising a lawful profession, trade, or business of any kind, is to that extent void.

Saving of agreement
not to carry on business of which good-will is sold;

Exception 1.—One who sells the good-will of a business may agree with the buyer to refrain from carrying on a similar business, within specified local limits, so long as the buyer, or any person deriving title to the good-will from him, carries on a like business therein: Provided that such limits appear to the Court reasonable, regard being had to the nature of the business.

of agreement between partners

dissolution;

Exception 2.—Partners may, upon or in anticipation of a dissolution of the partnership, agree that some or all of them will not carry on a business similar to that of the partnership within such local limits as are referred to in the last preceding exception.

continuance of partnership.

Exception 3.—Partners may agree that some one or all of them will not carry on any business, other than that of the partnership, during the continuance of the partnership.

Agreements
in restraint of legal proceedings
void.

29. Every agreement, by which any party thereto is restricted absolutely from enforcing his rights under or in respect of any contract, by the usual legal proceedings in the ordinary tribunals, or which limits the time within which he may thus enforce his rights, is void to that extent.

contract to refer to arbitration dispute that may arise.

Exception 1.—This section shall not render illegal a contract by which two or more persons agree that any dispute which may arise between them in respect of any subject or class of subjects shall be referred to arbitration, and that only the amount awarded in such arbitration shall be recoverable in respect of the dispute so referred.

refer questions that have already arisen.

Exception 2.—Nor shall this section render illegal any contract in writing, by which two or more persons agree to refer to arbitration any question between them which has already arisen, or affect any provision of any law in force for the time being as to reference to arbitration.

Exception 3.—

30. Agreements, the meaning of which is not certain, or capable of being made certain, are void. Agreements void for uncertainty.

Illustrations.

(a) A. agrees to sell to B. "a hundred tons of oil." There is nothing whatever to show what kind of oil was intended. The agreement is void for uncertainty.

(b) A. agrees to sell to B. one hundred tons of oil of a specified description, known as an article of commerce. There is no uncertainty here to make the agreement void.

(c) A., who is a dealer in coconut-oil only, agrees to sell to B. "one hundred tons of oil." The nature of A.'s trade affords an indication of the meaning of the words, and A. has entered into a contract for the sale of one hundred tons of coconut-oil.

(d) A. agrees to sell to B. "all the grain in my granary at Ipoh." There is no uncertainty here to make the agreement void.

(e) A. agrees to sell to B. "one thousand gantangs of rice at a price to be fixed by C." As the price is capable of being made certain, there is no uncertainty here to make the agreement void.

(f) A. agrees to sell to B. "my white horse for dollars five hundred or dollars one thousand." There is nothing to show which of the two prices was to be given. The agreement is void.

31. (1) Agreements by way of wager are void; and no suit shall be brought for recovering anything alleged to be won on any wager, or entrusted to any person to abide the result of any game or other uncertain event on which any wager is made. Agreements by way of wager void.

(2) This section shall not be deemed to render unlawful a subscription or contribution, or agreement to subscribe or contribute, made or entered into for or toward any plate, prize, or sum of money, of the value or amount of five hundred dollars or upwards, to be awarded to the winner or winners of any horse-race. Exception in favour of certain prizes for horse-racing.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to legalise any transaction connected with horse-racing forbidden by any written law in force for the time being.

CHAPTER III

OF CONTINGENT CONTRACTS.

32. A "contingent contract" is a contract to do or not to do something, if some event, collateral to such contract, does or does not happen. "Contingent contract" defined.

Illustration.

A. contracts to pay B. $10,000 if B.'s house is burnt. This is a contingent contract.

Enforcement of contracts
contingent on an event
happening.

33. Contingent contracts to do or not to do anything if an uncertain future event happens cannot be enforced by law unless and until that event has happened.

If the event becomes impossible, such contracts become void.

Illustrations.

(a) A. makes a contract with B. to buy B.'s horse if A. survives C. This contract cannot be enforced by law unless and until C. dies in A.'s lifetime.

(b) A. makes a contract with B. to sell a horse to B. at a specified price, if C., to whom the horse has been offered, refuses to buy him. The contract cannot be enforced by law unless and until C. refuses to buy the horse.

(c) A. contracts to pay B. a sum of money when B. marries C. C. dies without being married to B. The contract becomes void.

Enforcement
contingent
on an event
not happening.

34. Contingent contracts to do or not to do anything if an uncertain future event does not happen can be enforced when the happening of that event becomes impossible, and not before.

Illustration.

A. agrees to pay B. a sum of money if a certain ship does not return. The ship is sunk. The contract can be enforced when the ship sinks.

When event on which contract is contingent to be deemed impossible, if it is the future conduct of a living person.

35. If the future event on which a contract is contingent is the way in which a person will act at an unspecified time, the event shall be considered to become impossible when such person does anything which renders it impossible that he should so act within any definite time, or otherwise than under further contingencies.

Illustration.

A. agrees to pay B. a sum of money if B. marries C.

C. marries D. The marriage of B. to C. must now be considered impossible, although it is possible that D. may die and that C. may afterwards marry B.

When
contracts become void which are contingent on happening of specified event within fixed time.

36. (1) Contingent contracts to do or not to do anything if a specified uncertain event happens within a fixed time become void if, at the expiration of the time fixed, such event has not happened, or if, before the time fixed, such event becomes impossible.

(2) Contingent contracts to do or not to do anything if a specified uncertain event does not happen within a fixed time may be enforced by law when the time fixed has expired and such event has not happened, or, before the time fixed has expired, if it becomes certain that such event will not happen.

When contracts may be enforced which are contingent on specified event not happening within fixed time.

Illustrations.

(a) A. promises to pay B. a sum of money if a certain ship returns within a year. The contract may be enforced if the ship returns within the year; and becomes void if the ship is burnt within the year.

(b) A. promises to pay B. a sum of money if a certain ship does not return within a year. The contract may be enforced if the ship does not return within the year, or is burnt within the year.

37. Contingent agreements to do or not to do anything, if an impossible event happens, are void, whether the impossibility of the event is known or not to the parties to the agreement at the time when it is made.

Agreement contingent on impossible events void.

Illustrations.

(a) A. agrees to pay B. $1,000 if two straight lines should enclose a space. The agreement is void.

(b) A. agrees to pay B. $1,000 if B. will marry A.'s daughter C. C. was dead at the time of the agreement. The agreement is void.

CHAPTER IV

OF THE PERFORMANCE OF CONTRACTS.

CONTRACTS WHICH MUST BE PERFORMED.

38. (1) The parties to a contract must either perform, or offer to perform, their respective promises, unless such performance is dispensed with or excused under the provisions of this Ordinance, or of any other law.

Obligation of parties to contracts.

(2) Promises bind the representatives of the promisors in case of the death of such promisors before performance, unless a contrary intention appears from the contract.

Illustrations.

(a) A. promises to deliver goods to B. on a certain day on payment of $1,000. A. dies before that day. A.'s representatives are bound to deliver the goods to B., and B. is bound to pay the $1,000 to A.'s representatives.

(b) A. promises to paint a picture for B. by a certain day, at a certain price. A. dies before the day. The contract cannot be enforced either by A.'s representatives or by B.

Effect of refusal to accept offer of performance.

39. (1) Where a promisor has made an offer of performance to the promisee, and the offer has not been accepted, the promisor is not responsible for non-performance, nor does he thereby lose his rights under the contract.

(2) Every such offer must fulfil the following conditions—

- (a) it must be unconditional;
- (b) it must be made at a proper time and place, and under such circumstances that the person to whom it is made may have a reasonable opportunity of ascertaining that the person by whom it is made is able and willing there and then to do the whole of what he is bound by his promise to do;
- (c) if the offer is an offer to deliver anything to the promisee, the promisee must have a reasonable opportunity of seeing that the thing offered is the thing which the promisor is bound by his promise to deliver.

(3) An offer to one of several joint promisees has the same legal consequences as an offer to all of them.

Illustration.

A. contracts to deliver to B. at his warehouse, on the 1st of March, 100 bales of cotton of a particular quality. In order to make an offer of a performance with the effect stated in this section, A. must bring the cotton to B.'s warehouse, on the appointed day, under such circumstances that B. may have a reasonable opportunity of satisfying himself that the thing offered is cotton of the quality contracted for, and that there are 100 bales.

refusal of party to perform promise wholly.

40. When a party to a contract has refused to perform, or disabled himself from performing, his promise in its entirety, the promisee may put an end to the contract, unless he has signified, by words or conduct, his acquiescence in its continuance.

Illustrations.

(a) A., a singer, enters into a contract with B., the manager of a theatre, to sing at his theatre two nights in every week during the next two months, and B. engages to pay her $100 for each night's performance. On the sixth night A. wilfully absents herself from the theatre. B. is at liberty to put an end to the contract.

(b) A., a singer, enters into a contract with B., the manager of a theatre, to sing at his theatre two nights in every week during the next two months, and B. engages to pay her at the rate of $100 for each night. On the sixth night A. wilfully absents herself. With the assent of B., A. sings on the seventh night. B. has signified his acquiescence in the continuance of the contract, and cannot now put an end to it, but is entitled to compensation for the damage sustained by him through A.'s failure to sing on the sixth night.

BY WHOM CONTRACTS MUST BE PERFORMED.

41. If it appears from the nature of the case that it was the intention of the parties to any contract that any promise contained in it should be performed by the promisor himself, such promise must be performed by the promisor. In other cases, the promisor or his representatives may employ a competent person to perform it.

Person by whom promise is to be performed.

Illustrations.

(a) A. promises to pay B. a sum of money. A. may perform this promise, either by personally paying the money to B., or by causing it to be paid to B. by another; and, if A. dies before the time appointed for payment, his representatives must perform the promise, or employ some proper person to do so.

(b) A. promises to paint a picture for B. A. must perform this promise personally.

42. When a promisee accepts performance of the promise from a third person, he cannot afterwards enforce it against the promisor.

Effect of accepting performance from third person.

43. When two or more persons have made a joint promise, then, unless a contrary intention appears by the contract, all such persons, during their joint lives, and, after the death of any of them, his representative jointly with the survivor or survivors, and, after the death of the last survivor, the representatives of all jointly, must fulfil the promise.

Devolution of joint liabilities.

44. (1) When two or more persons make a joint promise, the promisee may, in the absence of express agreement to the contrary, compel any one or more of such joint promisors to perform the whole of the promise.

Any one of joint promisors may be compelled to perform.

(2) Each of two or more joint promisors may compel every other joint promisor to contribute equally with himself to the performance of the promise, unless a contrary intention appears from the contract.

Each promisor may compel contribution.

(3) If any one of two or more joint promisors makes default in such contribution, the remaining joint promisors must bear the loss arising from such default in equal shares.

Sharing of loss by default in contribution.

Explanation.—Nothing in this section shall prevent a surety from recovering from his principal payments made by the surety on behalf of the principal, or entitle the principal to recover anything from the surety on account of payments made by the principal.

Illustrations.

(a) A., B., and C. jointly promise to pay D. $3,000. D. may compel either A. or B. or C. to pay him $3,000.

(b) A., B., and C. jointly promise to pay D. the sum of $3,000. C. is compelled to pay the whole. A. is insolvent, but his assets are sufficient to pay one-half of his debts. C. is entitled to receive $500 from A.'s estate, and $1,250 from B.

(c) A., B., and C. are under a joint promise to pay D. $3,000. C. is unable to pay anything, and A. is compelled to pay the whole. A. is entitled to receive $1,500 from B.

(d) A., B., and C. are under a joint promise to pay D. $3,000, A. and B. being only sureties for C. C. fails to pay. A. and B. are compelled to pay the whole sum. They are entitled to recover it from C.

Effect of release of one joint promisor.

45. Where two or more persons have made a joint promise, a release of one of such joint promisors by the promisee does not discharge the other joint promisor or joint promisors; neither does it free the joint promisor so released from responsibility to the other joint promisor or joint promisors.

Devolution of joint rights.

46. When a person has made a promise to two or more persons jointly, then, unless a contrary intention appears from the contract, the right to claim performance rests, as between him and them, with them during their joint lives, and, after the death of any of them, with the representative of such deceased person jointly with the survivor or survivors, and after the death of the last survivor, with the representatives of all jointly.

Illustration.

A., in consideration of $5,000 lent to him by B. and C., promises B. and C. jointly to repay them that sum with interest on a day specified. B. dies. The right to claim performance rests with B.'s representative jointly with C. during C.'s life, and after the death of C. with the representatives of B. and C. jointly.

TIME AND PLACE FOR PERFORMANCE.

Time for performance of promise where no application is to be made and no time is specified.

47. Where, by the contract, a promisor is to perform his promise without application by the promisee, and no time for performance is specified, the engagement must be performed within a reasonable time.

Explanation.—The question "what is a reasonable time" is, in each particular case, a question of fact.

48. When a promise is to be performed on a certain day, and the promisor has undertaken to perform it without application by the promisee, the promisor may perform it at any time during the usual hours of business on such day and at the place at which the promise ought to be performed.

Time and place for performance of promise where time is specified and no application to be made.

Illustration.

A. promises to deliver goods at B.'s warehouse on the 1st of January. On that day A. brings the goods to B.'s warehouse, but after the usual hour for closing it, and they are not received. A. has not performed his promise.

49. When a promise is to be performed on a certain day, and the promisor has not undertaken to perform it without application by the promisee, it is the duty of the promisee to apply for performance at a proper place and within the hours of business.

Application for performance on certain day to be at proper time and place.

Explanation.—The question “what is a proper time and place” is, in each particular case, a question of fact.

50. When a promise is to be performed without application by the promisee, and no place is fixed for the performance of it, it is the duty of the promisor to apply to the promisee to appoint a reasonable place for the performance of the promise, and to perform it at such place.

Place for performance of promise where no application to be made and no place fixed.

Illustration.

A. undertakes to deliver a thousand gantangs of rice to B. on a fixed day. A. must apply to B. to appoint a reasonable place for the purpose of receiving it, and must deliver it to him at such place.

51. The performance of any promise may be made in any manner, or at any time which the promisee prescribes or sanctions.

Performance in manner or at time prescribed or sanctioned by promisee.

Illustrations.

(a) B. owes A. $2,000. A. desires B. to pay the amount to A.'s account with C., a banker. B., who also banks with C., orders the amount to be transferred from his account to A.'s credit, and this is done by C. Afterwards, and before A. knows of the transfer, C. fails. There has been a good payment by B.

(b) A. and B. are mutually indebted. A. and B. settle an account by setting off one item against another, and B. pays A. the balance found to be due from him upon such settlement. This amounts to a payment by A. and B., respectively, of the sums which they owed to each other.

(c) A. owes B. $2,000. B. accepts some of A.'s goods in reduction of the debt. The delivery of the goods operates as a part payment.

(d) A. desires B., who owes him $100, to send him a note for $100 by post. The debt is discharged as soon as B. puts into the post a letter containing the note duly addressed to A.

PERFORMANCE OF RECIPROCAL PROMISES.

Promisor
not bound to
unless reciprocal promisee ready and willing to perform.

52. When a contract consists of reciprocal promises to be simultaneously performed, no promisor need perform his promise unless the promisee is ready and willing to perform his reciprocal promise.

Illustrations.

(a) A. and B. contract that A. shall deliver goods to B. to be paid for by B. on delivery.

A. need not deliver the goods unless B. is ready and willing to pay for the goods on delivery.

B. need not pay for the goods unless A. is ready and willing to deliver them on payment.

(b) A. and B. contract that A. shall deliver goods to B. at a price to be paid by instalments, the first instalment to be paid on delivery.

A. need not deliver unless B. is ready and willing to pay the first instalment on delivery.

B. need not pay the first instalment unless A. is ready and willing to deliver the goods on payment of the first instalment.

Order of performance
of reciprocal promises.

53. Where the order in which reciprocal promises are to be performed is expressly fixed by the contract, they shall be performed in that order; and, where the order is not expressly fixed by the contract, they shall be performed in that order which the nature of the transaction requires.

Illustrations.

(a) A. and B. contract that A. shall build a house for B. at a fixed price. A.'s promise to build the house must be performed before B.'s promise to pay for it.

(b) A. and B. contract that A. shall make over his stock-in-trade to B. at a fixed price, and B. promises to give security for the payment of the money. A.'s promise need not be performed until the security is given, for the nature of the transaction requires that A. should have security before he delivers up his stock.

54. When a contract contains reciprocal promises, and one party to the contract prevents the other from performing his promise, the contract becomes voidable at the option of the party so prevented; and he is entitled to compensation from the other party for any loss which he may sustain in consequence of the non-performance of the contract.

Liability of party preventing event on which contract is to take effect.

Illustration.

A. and B. contract that B. shall execute certain work for A. for $1,000. B. is ready and willing to execute the work accordingly, but A. prevents him from doing so. The contract is voidable at the option of B; and, if he elects to rescind it, he is entitled to recover from A. compensation for any loss which he has incurred by its non-performance.

55. When a contract consists of reciprocal promises, such that one of them cannot be performed, or that its performance cannot be claimed till the other has been performed, and the promisor of the promise last mentioned fails to perform it, such promisor cannot claim the performance of the reciprocal promise, and must make compensation to the other party to the contract for any loss which such other party may sustain by the non-performance of the contract.

Effect of default as to that promise which should be first performed, in contract consisting of reciprocal promises.

Illustrations.

(a) A. hires B.'s ship to take in and convey, from Klang to Singapore, a cargo to be provided by A., B. receiving a certain freight for its conveyance. A. does not provide any cargo for the ship. A. cannot claim the performance of B.'s promise, and must make compensation to B. for the loss which B. sustains by the non-performance of the contract.

(b) A. contracts with B. to execute certain builders' work for a fixed price, B. supplying the scaffolding and timber necessary for the work. B. refuses to furnish any scaffolding or timber, and the work cannot be executed. A. need not execute the work, and B. is bound to make compensation to A. for any loss caused to him by the non-performance of the contract.

(c) A. contracts with B. to deliver to him, at a specified price, certain merchandise on board a ship which cannot arrive for a month, and B. engages to pay for the merchandise within a week from the date of the contract. B. does not pay within the week. A.'s promise to deliver need not be performed, and B. must make compensation.

(d) A. promises B. to sell him one hundred bales of merchandise, to be delivered next day, and B. promises A. to pay for them within a month. A. does not deliver according to his promise. B.'s promise to pay need not be performed, and A. must make compensation.

Effect of failure to perform at fixed time, in contract in which time is essential.

56. (1) When a party to a contract promises to do a certain thing at or before a specified time, or certain things at or before specified times, and fails to do any such thing at or before the specified time, the contract, or so much of it as has not been performed, becomes voidable at the option of the promisee, if the intention of the parties was that time should be of the essence of the contract.

Effect of such failure when time is not essential.

(2) If it was not the intention of the parties that time should be of the essence of the contract, the contract does not become voidable by the failure to do such thing at or before the specified time; but the promisee is entitled to compensation from the promisor for any loss occasioned to him by such failure.

Effect of acceptance of performance at time other than that agreed upon.

(3) If, in case of a contract voidable on account of the promisor's failure to perform his promise at the time agreed, the promisee accepts performance of such promise at any time other than that agreed, the promisee cannot claim compensation for any loss occasioned by the non-performance of the promise at the time agreed, unless, at the time of such acceptance, he gives notice to the promisor of his intention to do so.

Agreement to do impossible act.

57. (1) An agreement to do an act impossible in itself is void.

Contract to do act afterwards becoming impossible or unlawful.

(2) A contract to do an act which, after the contract is made, becomes impossible, or by reason of some event which the promisor could not prevent, unlawful, becomes void when the act becomes impossible or unlawful.

Compensation for loss through non-performance of act known to be impossible or unlawful.

(3) Where one person has promised to do something which he knew, or, with reasonable diligence, might have known, and which the promisee did not know, to be impossible or unlawful, such promisor must make compensation to such promisee for any loss which such promisee sustains through the non-performance of the promise.

Illustrations.

(a) A. agrees with B. to discover treasure by magic. The agreement is void.

(b) A. and B. contract to marry each other. Before the time fixed for the marriage, A. goes mad. The contract becomes void.

(c) A. contracts to marry B., being already married to C., and being forbidden by the law to which he is subject to practise polygamy. A. must make compensation to B. for the loss caused to her by the non-performance of his promise.

(d) A. contracts to take in cargo for B. at a foreign port. A.'s Government afterwards declares war against the country in which the port is situated. The contract becomes void when war is declared.

(e) A. contracts to act at a theatre for six months in consideration of a sum paid in advance by B. On several occasions A. is too ill to act. The contract to act on those occasions becomes void.

58. Where persons reciprocally promise, firstly, to do certain things which are legal, and, secondly, under specified circumstances, to do certain other things which are illegal, the first set of promises is a contract, but the second is a void agreement.

Reciprocal promise to do things legal, and also other things illegal.

Illustration.

A. and B. agree that A. shall sell B. a house for $10,000, but that, if B. uses it as a gambling house, he shall pay A. $50,000 for it.

The first set of reciprocal promises, namely, to sell the house and to pay $10,000 for it, is a contract.

The second set is for an unlawful object, namely, that B. may use the house as a gambling house, and is a void agreement.

59. In the case of an alternative promise, one branch of which is legal and the other illegal, the legal branch alone can be enforced.

Alternative promise, one branch being illegal.

Illustration.

A. and B. agree that A. shall pay B. $1,000 for which B. shall afterwards deliver to A. either rice or smuggled opium.

This is a valid contract to deliver rice, and a void agreement as to the opium.

APPROPRIATION OF PAYMENTS.

60. Where a debtor, owing several distinct debts to one person, makes a payment to him, either with express intimation, or under circumstances implying that the payment is to be applied to the discharge of some particular debt, the payment, if accepted, must be applied accordingly.

Application of payment where debt to be discharged is indicated.

Illustrations.

(a) A. owes B., among other debts, $1,000 upon a promissory note, which falls due on the 1st of June. He owes B. no other debt of that amount. On the 1st of June A. pays to B. $1,000. The payment is to be applied to the discharge of the promissory note.

(b) A. owes to B., among other debts, the sum of $567. B. writes to A. and demands the payment of this sum. A. sends to B. $567. This payment is to be applied to the discharge of the debt of which B. had demanded payment.

Application of payment where debt to be discharged is not indicated.

61. Where the debtor has omitted to intimate, and there are no other circumstances indicating to which debt the payment is to be applied, the creditor may apply it at his discretion to any lawful debt actually due and payable to him from the debtor, whether its recovery is or is not barred by the law in force for the time being as to the limitation of suits.

Application of payment where neither party appropriates.

62. Where neither party makes any appropriation the payment shall be applied in discharge of the debts in order of time, whether they are or are not barred by the law in force for the time being as to the limitation of suits. If the debts are of equal standing, the payment shall be applied in discharge of each proportionably.

CONTRACTS WHICH NEED NOT BE PERFORMED.

Effect of novation, rescission, and alteration of contract.

63. If the parties to a contract agree to substitute a new contract for it, or to rescind or alter it, the original contract need not be performed.

Illustrations.

(a) A. owes money to B. under a contract. It is agreed between A., B., and C. that B. shall henceforth accept C. as his debtor, instead of A. The old debt of A. to B. is at an end, and a new debt from C. to B. has been contracted.

(b) A. owes B. $10,000. A. enters into an arrangement with B., and gives B. a mortgage of his (A.'s) estate for $5,000 in place of the debt of $10,000. This is a new contract and extinguishes the old.

(c) A. owes B. $1,000 under a contract. B. owes C. $1,000. B. orders A. to credit C. with $1,000 in his books, but C. does not assent to the agreement. B. still owes C. $1,000, and no new contract has been entered into.

Promisee may dispense with or remit performance of promise.

64. Every promisee may dispense with or remit, wholly or in part, the performance of the promise made to him, or may extend the time for such performance, or may accept instead of it any satisfaction which he thinks fit.

Illustrations.

(a) A. promises to paint a picture for B. B. afterwards forbids him to do so. A. is no longer bound to perform the promise.

(b) A. owes B. $5,000. A. pays to B., and B. accepts, in satisfaction of the whole debt, $2,000 paid at the time and place at which the $5,000 were payable. The whole debt is discharged.

(c) A. owes B. $5,000. C. pays to B. $1,000 and B. accepts them, in satisfaction of his claim on A. This payment is a discharge of the whole claim.

(d) A. owes B., under a contract, a sum of money, the amount of which has not been ascertained. A., without ascertaining the amount, gives to B., and B., in satisfaction thereof, accepts the sum of $2,000. This is a discharge of the whole debt, whatever may be its amount.

(e) A. owes B. $2,000, and is also indebted to other creditors. A. makes an arrangement with his creditors, including B., to pay them a composition of fifty cents in the dollar upon their respective demands. Payment to B. of $1,000 is a discharge of B.'s demand.

65. When a person at whose option a contract is voidable rescinds it, the other party thereto need not perform any promise therein contained in which he is promisor. The party rescinding a voidable contract shall, if he have received any benefit thereunder from another party to such contract, restore such benefit, so far as may be, to the person from whom it was received.

Consequences of rescission of voidable contract.

66. When an agreement is discovered to be void, or when a contract becomes void, any person who has received any advantage under such agreement or contract is bound to restore it, or to make compensation for it, to the person from whom he received it.

Obligation of person who has received advantage under void agreement, or contract that becomes void.

Illustrations.

(a) A. pays B. $1,000 in consideration of B.'s promising to marry C., A.'s daughter. C. is dead at the time of the promise. The agreement is void, but B. must repay A. the $1,000.

(b) A. contracts with B. to deliver to him 250 gantangs of rice before the 1st of May. A. delivers 130 gantangs only before that day, and none later. B. retains the 130 gantangs after the 1st of May. He is bound to pay A. for them.

(c) A., a singer, contracts with B., the manager of a theatre, to sing at his theatre for two nights in every week during the next two months, and B. engages to pay her $100 for each night's performance. On the sixth night A. wilfully absents herself from the theatre, and B., in consequence, rescinds the contract. B. must pay A. for the five nights on which she had sung.

(d) A. contracts to sing for B. at a concert for $1,000, which are paid in advance. A. is too ill to sing. A. is not bound to make compensation to B. for the loss of the profits which B. would have made if A. had been able to sing, but must refund to B. the $1,000 paid in advance.

Mode of communicating or revoking rescission of voidable contract.

Effect of neglect of promisee to afford promisor reasonable facilities for performance.

67. The rescission of a voidable contract may be communicated or revoked in the same manner, and subject to the same rules, as apply to the communication or revocation of a proposal.

68. If any promisee neglects or refuses to afford the promisor reasonable facilities for the performance of his promise, the promisor is excused by such neglect or refusal as to any non-performance caused thereby.

Illustration.

A. contracts with B. to repair B.'s house.

B. neglects or refuses to point out to A. the places in which his house requires repair.

A. is excused for the non-performance of the contract if it is caused by such neglect or refusal.

CHAPTER V

OF CERTAIN RELATIONS RESEMBLING THOSE CREATED BY CONTRACT.

Claim for necessities supplied to person incapable of contracting, or on his account.

69. If a person, incapable of entering into a contract, or anyone whom he is legally bound to support, is supplied by another person with necessities suited to his condition in life, the person who has furnished such supplies is entitled to be reimbursed from the property of such incapable person.

Illustrations.

(a) A. supplies B., a mentally disordered person, with necessities suitable to his condition in life. A. is entitled to be reimbursed from B.'s property.

(b) A. supplies the wife and children of B., a mentally disordered person, with necessities suitable to their condition in life. A. is entitled to be reimbursed from B.'s property.

Reimbursement of person paying money due by another, in payment of which he is interested.

70. A person who is interested in the payment of money which another is bound by law to pay, and who therefore pays it, is entitled to be reimbursed by the other.

Illustration.

B. holds land in Perak, on a lease granted by A., the landowner. The revenue payable by A. to the Government being in arrear, his land is advertised for sale by the Government. Under the Land Code, the consequence of such sale will be the annulment of B.'s lease. B., to prevent the sale and the consequent annulment of his own lease, pays to the Government the sum due from A. A. is bound to make good to B. the amount so paid.

71. Where a person lawfully does anything for another person, or delivers anything to him, not intending to do so gratuitously, and such other person enjoys the benefit thereof, the latter is bound to make compensation to the former in respect of, or to restore, the thing so done or delivered.

Obligation of person enjoying benefit of non-gratuitous act.

Illustrations.

(a) A., a tradesman, leaves goods at B.'s house by mistake. B. treats the goods as his own. He is bound to pay A. for them.

(b) A. saves B.'s property from fire. A. is not entitled to compensation from B., if the circumstances show that he intended to act gratuitously.

72. A person who finds goods belonging to another, and takes them into his custody, is subject to the same responsibility as a bailee.

Responsibility of finder of goods.

73. A person to whom money has been paid, or anything delivered, by mistake or under coercion, must repay or return it.

Liability of person to whom money is paid, or thing delivered, by mistake or under coercion.

Illustrations.

(a) A. and B. jointly owe $100 to C. A. alone pays the amount to C., and B., not knowing this fact, pays $100 over again to C. C. is bound to repay the amount to B.

(b) A railway company refuses to deliver up certain goods to the consignee, except upon the payment of an illegal charge for carriage. The consignee pays the sum charged in order to obtain the goods. He is entitled to recover so much of the charge as was illegally excessive.

CHAPTER VI

OF THE CONSEQUENCES OF BREACH OF CONTRACT.

74. (1) When a contract has been broken, the party who suffers by such breach is entitled to receive, from the party who has broken the contract, compensation for any loss or damage caused to him thereby, which naturally arose in the usual course of things from such breach, or which the parties knew, when they made the contract, to be likely to result from the breach of it.

Compensation for loss or damage caused by breach of contract.

(2) Such compensation is not to be given for any remote and indirect loss or damage sustained by reason of the breach.

(3) When an obligation resembling those created by contract has been incurred and has not been discharged, any person injured by the failure to discharge it is entitled to receive the same compensation from the party in default as if such person had contracted to discharge it and had broken his contract.

Compensation for failure to discharge obligation resembling those created by contract.

Explanation.—In estimating the loss or damage arising from a breach of contract, the means which existed of remedying the inconvenience caused by the non-performance of the contract must be taken into account.

Illustrations.

(a) A. contracts to sell and deliver 50 gantangs of saltpetre to B., at a certain price to be paid on delivery. A. breaks his promise. B. is entitled to receive from A., by way of compensation, the sum, if any, by which the contract price falls short of the price for which B. might have obtained 50 gantangs of saltpetre of like quality at the time when the saltpetre ought to have been delivered.

(b) A. hires B.'s ship to go to Telok Anson, and there take on board, on the 1st of January, a cargo, which A. is to provide, and to bring it to Port Dickson, the freight to be paid when earned. B.'s ship does not go to Telok Anson, but A. has opportunities of procuring suitable conveyance for the cargo upon terms as advantageous as those on which he had chartered the ship. A. avails himself of those opportunities, but is put to trouble and expense in doing so. A. is entitled to receive compensation from B. in respect of such trouble and expense.

(c) A. contracts to buy of B., at a stated price, 50 gantangs of rice, no time being fixed for delivery. A. afterwards informs B. that he will not accept the rice if tendered to him. B. is entitled to receive from A., by way of compensation the amount, if any, by which the contract price exceeds that which B. can obtain for the rice at the time when A. informs B. that he will not accept it.

(d) A. contracts to buy B.'s ship for $60,000, but breaks his promise. A. must pay to B., by way of compensation, the excess, if any, of the contract price over the price which B. can obtain for the ship at the time of the breach of promise.

(e) A., the owner of a boat, contracts with B. to take a cargo of tin to Singapore, for sale at that place, starting on a specified day. The boat, owing to some avoidable cause, does not start at the time appointed, whereby the arrival of the cargo at Singapore is delayed beyond the time when it would have arrived if the boat had sailed according to the contract. After that date, and before the arrival of the cargo, the price of tin falls. The measure of the compensation payable to B. by A. is the difference between the price which B. could have obtained for the cargo at Singapore, at the time when it would have arrived if forwarded in due course, and its market price at the time when it actually arrived.

(f) A. contracts to repair B.'s house in a certain manner, and receives payment in advance. A. repairs the house, but not according to contract. B. is entitled to recover from A. the cost of making the repairs conform to the contract.

(g) A. contracts to let his ship to B. for a year, from the 1st of January, for a certain price. Freight rises, and, on the 1st of January, the hire obtainable for the ship is higher than the contract price. A. breaks his promise. He must pay to B.,

by way of compensation, a sum equal to the difference between the contract price and the price for which B. could hire a similar ship for a year on and from the 1st of January.

(h) A. contracts to supply B. with a certain quantity of iron at a fixed price, being a higher price than that for which A. could procure and deliver the iron. B. wrongfully refuses to receive the iron. B. must pay to A., by way of compensation, the difference between the contract price of the iron and the sum for which A. could have obtained and delivered it.

(i) A. delivers to B., a carrier, a machine, to be conveyed, without delay, to A.'s mill, informing B. that his mill is stopped for want of the machine. B. unreasonably delays the delivery of the machine, and A., in consequence, loses a profitable contract with the Government. A. is entitled to receive from B., by way of compensation, the average amount of profit which would have been made by the working of the mill during the time that delivery of it was delayed, but not the loss sustained through the loss of the Government contract.

(j) A., having contracted with B. to supply B. with 1,000 tons of iron at $100 a ton, to be delivered at a stated time, contracts with C. for the purchase of 1,000 tons of iron at $80 a ton, telling C. that he does so for the purpose of performing his contract with B. C. fails to perform his contract with A., who cannot procure other iron, and B., in consequence, rescinds the contract. C. must pay to A. $20,000, being the profit which A. would have made by the performance of his contract with B.

(k) A. contracts with B. to make and deliver to B., by a fixed day, for a specified price, a certain piece of machinery. A. does not deliver the piece of machinery at the time specified, and, in consequence of this, B. is obliged to procure another at a higher price than that which he was to have paid to A., and is prevented from performing a contract which B. had made with a third person at the time of his contract with A. (but which had not been then communicated to A.), and is compelled to make compensation for breach of that contract. A. must pay to B., by way of compensation, the difference between the contract price of the piece of machinery and the sum paid by B. for another, but not the sum paid by B. to the third person by way of compensation.

(l) A., a builder, contracts to erect and finish a house by the 1st of January, in order that B. may give possession of it at that time to C., to whom B. has contracted to let it. A. is informed of the contract between B. and C. A. builds the house so badly that, before the 1st of January, it falls down and has to be rebuilt by B., who, in consequence, loses the rent which he was to have received from C., and is obliged to make compensation to C. for the breach of his contract. A. must make compensation to B. for the cost of rebuilding the house, for the rent lost, and for the compensation made to C.

(m) A. sells certain merchandise to B., warranting it to be of a particular quality, and B., in reliance upon this warranty, sells it to C. with a similar warranty. The goods prove to be not according to the warranty, and B. becomes liable to pay C. a sum of money by way of compensation. B. is entitled to be reimbursed this sum by A.

(n) A. contracts to pay a sum of money to B. on a day specified. A. does not pay the money on that day. B., in consequence of not receiving the money on that day, is unable to pay his debts and is totally ruined. A. is not liable to make good to B. anything except the principal sum he contracted to pay, together with interest up to the day of payment.

(o) A. contracts to deliver 50 gantangs of saltpetre to B. on the 1st of January, at a certain price. B. afterwards, before the 1st of January, contracts to sell the saltpetre to C. at a higher price than the market price of the 1st of January. A. breaks his promise. In estimating the compensation payable by A. to B., the market price of the 1st of January, and not the profit which would have arisen to B. from the sale to C., is to be taken into account.

(p) A. contracts to sell and deliver 500 bales of cotton to B. on a fixed day. A. knows nothing of B.'s mode of conducting his business. A. breaks his promise, and B., having no cotton, is obliged to close his mill. A. is not responsible to B. for the loss caused to B. by the closing of the mill.

(q) A. contracts to sell and deliver to B., on the 1st of January, certain cloth which B. intends to manufacture into caps of a particular kind, for which there is no demand, except at that season. The cloth is not delivered till after the appointed time, and too late to be used that year in making caps. B. is entitled to receive from A., by way of compensation, the difference between the contract price of the cloth and its market price at the time of delivery, but not the profits which he expected to obtain by making caps, nor the expenses which he has been put to in making preparation for the manufacture.

(r) A., a shipowner, contracts with B. to convey him from Klang to Sydney in A.'s ship, sailing on the 1st of January, and B. pays to A., by way of deposit, one-half of his passage-money. The ship does not sail on the 1st of January, and B., after being, in consequence, detained in Klang for some time, and thereby put to some expense, proceeds to Sydney in another vessel, and, in consequence, arriving too late in Sydney, loses a sum of money. A. is liable to repay to B. his deposit, with interest, and the expense to which he is put by his detention in Klang, and the excess, if any, of the passage-money paid for the second ship over that agreed upon for the first, but not the sum of money which B. lost by arriving in Sydney too late.

75. When a contract has been broken, if a sum is named in the contract as the amount to be paid in case of such breach, or if the contract contains any other stipulation by way of penalty, the party complaining of the breach is entitled, whether or not actual damage or loss is proved to have been caused thereby, to receive from the party who has broken the contract reasonable compensation not exceeding the amount so named or, as the case may be, the penalty stipulated for.

Explanation.—A stipulation for increased interest from the date of default may be a stipulation by way of penalty.

Compensation for breach of contract where penalty stipulated for.

Exception.—When any person enters into any bail-bond, recognisance, or other instrument of the same nature, or, under the provisions of any law, or under the orders of the Government of the State or the Federal Government, gives any bond for the performance of any public duty or act in which the public are interested, he shall be liable, upon breach of the condition of any such instrument, to pay the whole sum mentioned therein.

Explanation.—A person who enters into a contract with Government does not necessarily thereby undertake any public duty, or promise to do an act in which the public are interested.

Illustrations.

(a) A. contracts with B. to pay B. $1,000, if he fails to pay B. $500 on a given day. A. fails to pay B. $500 on that day. B. is entitled to recover from A. such compensation, not exceeding $1,000, as the Court considers reasonable.

(b) A. contracts with B. that, if A. practises as a surgeon within Calcutta, he will pay B. $5,000. A. practises as a surgeon in Calcutta. B. is entitled to such compensation, not exceeding $5,000, as the Court considers reasonable.

(c) A. gives a recognisance binding him in a penalty of $500 to appear in Court on a certain day. He forfeits his recognisance. He is liable to pay the whole penalty.

(d) A. gives B. a bond for the repayment of $1,000 with interest at 12 per cent. at the end of six months, with a stipulation that, in case of default, interest shall be payable at the rate of 75 per cent. from the date of default. This is a stipulation by way of penalty, and B. is only entitled to recover from A. such compensation as the Court considers reasonable.

(e) A., who owes money to B., a money-lender, undertakes to repay him by delivering to him 10 gantangs of grain on a certain date, and stipulates that, in the event of his not delivering the stipulated amount by the stipulated date, he shall be liable to deliver 20 gantangs. This is a stipulation by way of penalty, and B. is only entitled to reasonable compensation in case of breach.

(f) A. undertakes to repay B. a loan of $1,000 by five equal monthly instalments, with a stipulation that, in default of payment of any instalment, the whole shall become due. This stipulation is not by way of penalty, and the contract may be enforced according to its terms.

(g) A. borrows $100 from B. and gives him a bond for $200 payable by five yearly instalments of $40, with a stipulation that, in default of payment of any instalment, the whole shall become due. This is a stipulation by way of penalty.

Party rightfully rescinding contract
entitled to compensation.

76. A person who rightly rescinds a contract is entitled to compensation for any damage which he has sustained through the non-fulfilment of the contract.

Illustration.

A., a singer, contracts with B., the manager of a theatre, to sing at his theatre for two nights in every week during the next two months, and B. engages to pay her $100 for each night's performance. On the sixth night A. wilfully absents herself from the theatre, and B., in consequence, rescinds the contract. B. is entitled to claim compensation for the damage which he has sustained through the non-fulfilment of the contract.

CHAPTER VII

OF INDEMNITY AND GUARANTEE.

"Contract of indemnity"
defined.

77. A contract by which one party promises to save the other from loss caused to him by the conduct of the promisor himself, or by the conduct of any other person, is called a "contract of indemnity".

Illustration.

A. contracts to indemnify B. against the consequences of any proceedings which C. may take against B. in respect of a certain sum of $200. This is a contract of indemnity.

Rights of indemnity-holder when sued.

78. The promisee in the contract of indemnity, acting within the scope of his authority, is entitled to recover from the promisor—

- (a) all damages which he may be compelled to pay in any suit in respect of any matter to which the promise to indemnify applies;
- (b) all costs which he may be compelled to pay in any such suit if, in bringing or defending it, he did not contravene the orders of the promisor, and acted as it would have been prudent for him to act in the absence of any contract of indemnity, or if the promisor authorised him to bring or defend the suit;
- (c) all sums which he may have paid under the terms of any compromise of any such suit, if the compromise was not contrary to the orders of the promisor, and was one which it would have been prudent for the promisee to make in the absence of any contract of indemnity, or if the promisor authorised him to compromise the suit.

79. A "contract of guarantee" is a contract to perform the promise, or discharge the liability, of a third person in case of his default. The person who gives the guarantee is called the "surety"; the person in respect of whose default the guarantee is given is called the "principal debtor", and the person to whom the guarantee is given is called the "creditor". A guarantee may be either oral or written.

"Contract of guarantee", "surety", "principal debtor", and "creditor".

80. Anything done, or any promise made, for the benefit of the principal debtor may be a sufficient consideration to the surety for giving the guarantee.

Consideration for guarantee.

Illustrations.

(a) B. requests A. to sell and deliver to him goods on credit. A. agrees to do so, provided C. will guarantee the payment of the price of the goods. C. promises to guarantee the payment in consideration of A.'s promise to deliver the goods. This is a sufficient consideration for C.'s promise.

(b) A. sells and delivers goods to B. C. afterwards requests A. to forbear to sue B. for the debt for a year, and promises that, if he does so, C. will pay for them in default of payment by B. A. agrees to forbear as requested. This is a sufficient consideration for C.'s promise.

(c) A. sells and delivers goods to B. C. afterwards, without consideration, agrees to pay for them in default of B. The agreement is void.

81. The liability of the surety is co-extensive with that of the principal debtor, unless it is otherwise provided by the contract.

Surety's liability.

Illustration.

A. guarantees to B. the payment of a bill of exchange by C., the acceptor. The bill is dishonoured by C. A. is liable, not only for the amount of the bill, but also for any interest and charges which may have become due on it.

82. A guarantee which extends to a series of transactions is called a "continuing guarantee".

"Continuing guarantee".

Illustrations.

(a) A., in consideration that B. will employ C. in collecting the rents of B.'s estate, promises B. to be responsible to the amount of $5,000, for the due collection and payment by C. of those rents. This is a continuing guarantee.

(b) A. guarantees payment to B., a tea-dealer, to the amount of $1,000, for any tea he may from time to time supply to C. B. supplies C. with tea to above the value of $1,000, and C. pays B. for it. Afterwards, B. supplies C. with tea to the value of $2,000. C. fails to pay. The guarantee given by A. was a continuing guarantee, and he is accordingly liable to B. to the extent of $1,000.

(c) A. guarantees payment to B. of the price of five sacks of flour to be delivered by B. to C. and to be paid for in a month. B. delivers five sacks to C. C. pays for them. Afterwards B. delivers four sacks to C., which C. does not pay for. The guarantee given by A. was not a continuing guarantee, and accordingly he is not liable for the price of the four sacks.

Revocation
of continuing guarantee.

83. A continuing guarantee may at any time be revoked by the surety, as to future transactions, by notice to the creditor.

Illustrations.

(a) A., in consideration of B.'s discounting, at A.'s request, bills of exchange for C., guarantees to B., for twelve months, the due payment of all such bills to the extent of $5,000. B. discounts bills for C. to the extent of $2,000. Afterwards, at the end of three months, A. revokes the guarantee. This revocation discharges A. from all liability to B. for any subsequent discount. But A. is liable to B. for the $2,000 on default of C.

(b) A. guarantees to B., to the extent of $10,000, that C. shall pay all the bills that B. shall draw upon him. B. draws upon C. C. accepts the bill. A. gives notice of revocation. C. dishonours the bill at maturity. A. is liable upon his guarantee.

Revocation
of continuing guarantee by surety's death.

84. The death of the surety operates, in the absence of any contract to the contrary, as a revocation of a continuing guarantee, so far as regards future transactions.

Liability of two persons, primarily liable, not affected by arrangement between them that one shall be surety on other's default.

85. Where two persons contract with a third person to undertake a certain liability, and also contract with each other that one of them shall be liable only on the default of the other, the third person not being a party to such contract, the liability of each of such two persons to the third person under the first contract is not affected by the existence of the second contract, although such third person may have been aware of its existence.

Illustration.

A. and B. make a joint and several promissory note to C. A. makes it, in fact, as surety for B., and C. knows this at the time when the note is made. The fact that A., to the knowledge of C., made the note as surety for B., is no answer to a suit by C. against A. upon the note.

Discharge of surety by variance in
contract.

86. Any variance, made without the surety's consent, in the terms of the contract between the principal debtor and the creditor, discharges the surety as to transactions subsequent to the variance.

Illustrations.

(a) A. becomes surety to C. for B.'s conduct as a manager in C.'s bank. Afterwards, B. and C. contract, without A.'s consent, that B.'s salary shall be raised, and that he shall become liable for one-fourth of the losses on overdrafts. B. allows a customer to overdraw, and the bank loses a sum of money. A. is discharged from his suretyship by the variance made without his consent, and is not liable to make good this loss.

(b) A. guarantees C. against the misconduct of B. in an office to which B. is appointed by C., and of which the duties are defined by an Ordinance. By a subsequent Ordinance, the nature of the office is materially altered. Afterwards, B. misconducts himself. A. is discharged by the change from future liability under his guarantee, though the misconduct of B. is in respect of a duty not affected by the later Ordinance.

(c) C. agrees to appoint B. as his clerk to sell goods at a yearly salary, upon A.'s becoming surety to C. for B.'s duly accounting for moneys received by him as such clerk. Afterwards, without A.'s knowledge or consent, C. and B. agree that B. should be paid by a commission on the goods sold by him and not by a fixed salary. A. is not liable for subsequent misconduct of B.

(d) A. gives to C. a continuing guarantee to the extent of $3,000 for any oil supplied by C. to B. on credit. Afterwards, B. becomes embarrassed, and, without the knowledge of A., B. and C. contract that C. shall continue to supply B. with oil for ready money, and that the payments shall be applied to the then existing debts between B. and C. A. is not liable on his guarantee for any goods supplied after this new arrangement.

(e) C. contracts to lend B. $5,000 on the 1st of March. A. guarantees repayment. C. pays the $5,000 to B. on the 1st of January. A. is discharged from his liability, as the contract has been varied, inasmuch as C. might sue B. for the money before the 1st of March.

87. The surety is discharged by any contract between the creditor and the principal debtor, by which the principal debtor is released, or by any act or omission of the creditor, the legal consequence of which is the discharge of the principal debtor.

Discharge of surety by release or discharge of principal debtor.

Illustrations.

(a) A. gives a guarantee to C. for goods to be supplied by C. to B. C. supplies goods to B., and afterwards B. becomes embarrassed and contracts with his creditors (including C.) to assign to them his property in consideration of their releasing him from their demands. Here B. is released from his debt by the contract with C., and A. is discharged from his suretyship.

(b) A. contracts with B. to grow a crop of indigo on A.'s land and to deliver it to B. at a fixed rate, and C. guarantees A.'s performance of this contract. B. diverts a stream of water which is necessary for irrigation of A.'s land, and thereby prevents him from raising the indigo. C. is no longer liable on his guarantee.

(c) A. contracts with B. for a fixed price to build a house for B. within a stipulated time, B. supplying the necessary timber. C. guarantees A.'s performance of the contract. B. omits to supply the timber. C. is discharged from his suretyship.

Discharge of surety when creditor compounds with, gives time to, or agrees not to sue principal debtor.

88. A contract between the creditor and the principal debtor, by which the creditor makes a composition with, or promises to give time to, or not to sue, the principal debtor, discharges the surety, unless the surety assents to such contract.

Surety not discharged when agreement made with third person to give time to principal debtor.

89. Where a contract to give time to the principal debtor is made by the creditor with a third person, and not with the principal debtor, the surety is not discharged.

Illustration.

C., the holder of an overdue bill of exchange drawn by A. as surety for B., and accepted by B., contracts with M. to give time to B. A. is not discharged.

Creditor's forbearance to sue does not discharge surety.

90. Mere forbearance on the part of the creditor to sue the principal debtor or to enforce any other remedy against him does not, in the absence of any provision in the guarantee to the contrary, discharge the surety.

Illustration.

B. owes to C. a debt guaranteed by A. The debt becomes payable. C. does not sue B. for a year after the debt has become payable. A. is not discharged from his suretyship.

Release of one co-surety does not discharge others.

91. Where there are co-sureties, a release by the creditor of one of them does not discharge the others; neither does it free the surety so released from his responsibility to the other sureties.

Discharge of surety by creditor's act or omission impairing surety's eventual remedy.

92. If the creditor does any act which is inconsistent with the rights of the surety, or omits to do any act which his duty to the surety requires him to do, and the eventual remedy of the surety himself against the principal debtor is thereby impaired, the surety is discharged.

Illustrations.

(a) B. contracts to build a ship for C. for a given sum, to be paid by instalments as the work reaches certain stages. A. becomes surety to C. for B.'s due performance of the contract. C., without the knowledge of A., prepays to B. the last two instalments. A. is discharged by this prepayment.

(b) C. lends money to B. on the security of a joint and several promissory note made in C.'s favour by B., and by A. as surety for B., together with a bill of sale of B.'s furniture, which gives power to C. to sell the furniture, and apply the proceeds in discharge of the note. Subsequently, C. sells the furniture, but, owing to his misconduct and wilful negligence, only a small price is realised. A. is discharged from liability on the note.

(c) A. puts M. as apprentice to B., and gives a guarantee to B. for M.'s fidelity. B. promises on his part that he will, at least once a month, see M. make up the cash. B. omits to see this done as promised, and M. embezzles. A. is not liable to B. on his guarantee.

93. Where a guaranteed debt has become due, or default of the principal debtor to perform a guaranteed duty has taken place, the surety, upon payment or performance of all that he is liable for, is invested with all the rights which the creditor had against the principal debtor.

Rights of surety on payment or performance.

94. A surety is entitled to the benefit of every security which the creditor has against the principal debtor at the time when the contract of suretyship is entered into, whether the surety knows of the existence of such security or not; and, if the creditor loses or, without the consent of the surety, parts with such security, the surety is discharged to the extent of the value of the security.

Surety's right to benefit of creditor's securities.

Illustrations.

(a) C. advances to B., his tenant, $2,000 on the guarantee of A. C. has also a further security for the $2,000 by a mortgage of B.'s furniture. C. cancels the mortgage. B. becomes insolvent, and C. sues A. on his guarantee. A. is discharged from liability to the amount of the value of the furniture.

(b) C., a creditor, whose advance to B. is secured by a decree, receives also a guarantee for that advance from A. C. afterwards takes B.'s goods in execution under the decree, and then, without the knowledge of A., withdraws the execution. A. is discharged.

(c) A., as surety for B., makes a bond jointly with B. to C., to secure a loan from C. to B. Afterwards, C. obtains from B. a further security for the same debt. Subsequently, C. gives up the further security. A. is not discharged.

95. Any guarantee which has been obtained by means of misrepresentation made by the creditor, or with his knowledge and assent, concerning a material part of the transaction, is invalid.

Guarantee obtained by misrepresentation invalid.

Guarantee
obtained by concealment invalid.

96. Any guarantee which the creditor has obtained by means of keeping silence as to material circumstance is invalid.

Illustrations.

(a) A. engages B. as clerk to collect money for him. B. fails to account for some of his receipts, and A. in consequence calls upon him to furnish security for his duly accounting. C. gives his guarantee for B.'s duly accounting. A. does not acquaint C. with B.'s previous conduct. B. afterwards makes default. The guarantee is invalid.

(b) A. guarantees to C. payment for iron to be supplied by him to B. to the amount of 2,000 tons. B. and C. have privately agreed that B. should pay five dollars per ton beyond the market price, such excess to be applied in liquidation of an old debt. This agreement is concealed from A. A. is not liable as a surety.

Guarantee
on contract that creditor shall not act on it until co-surety joins.

97. Where a person gives a guarantee upon a contract that the creditor shall not act upon it until another person has joined in it as co-surety, the guarantee is not valid if that other person does not join.

Implied promise to indemnify
surety.

98. In every contract of guarantee there is an implied promise by the principal debtor to indemnify the surety; and the surety is entitled to recover from the principal debtor whatever sum he has rightfully paid under the guarantee, but no sums which he has paid wrongfully.

Illustrations.

(a) B. is indebted to C., and A. is surety for the debt. C. demands payment from A., and on his refusal sues him for the amount. A. defends the suit, having reasonable grounds for doing so, but is compelled to pay the amount of the debt with costs. He can recover from B. the amount paid by him for costs, as well as the principal debt.

(b) C. lends B. a sum of money, and A., at the request of B., accepts a bill of exchange drawn by B. upon A. to secure the amount. C., the holder of the bill, demands payment of it from A., and, on A.'s refusal to pay, sues him upon the bill. A., not having reasonable grounds for so doing, defends the suit, and has to pay the amount of the bill and costs. He can recover from B. the amount of the bill, but not the sum paid for costs, as there was no real ground for defending the action.

(c) A. guarantees to C., to the extent of $2,000, payment for rice to be supplied by C. to B. C. supplies to B. rice to a less amount than $2,000, but obtains from A. payment of the sum of $2,000 in respect of the rice supplied. A. cannot recover from B. more than the price of the rice actually supplied.

Co-sureties liable to contribute equally.

99. Where two or more persons are co-sureties for the same debt or duty, either jointly or severally, and whether under the same or different contracts, and whether with or without the knowledge of each other, the co-sureties, in the absence of any contract to the contrary, are liable, as between themselves, to pay each an equal share of the whole debt, or of that part of it which remains unpaid by the principal debtor.

Illustrations.

(a) A., B. and C. are sureties to D. for the sum of $3,000 lent to E. E. makes default in payment. A., B. and C. are liable, as between themselves, to pay $1,000 each.

(b) A., B. and C. are sureties to D. for the sum of $1,000 lent to E., and there is a contract between A., B., and C. that A. is to be responsible to the extent of one-quarter, B. to the extent of one-quarter, and C. to the extent of one-half. E. makes default in payment. As between the sureties, A. is liable to pay $250, B. $250, and C. $500.

100. Co-sureties who are bound in different sums are liable to pay equally as far as the limits of their respective obligations permit.

Liability of co-sureties bound in different sums.

Illustrations.

(a) A., B., and C., as sureties for D., enter into three several bonds, each in a different penalty—namely, A. in the penalty of $10,000, B. in that of $20,000, C. in that of $40,000, conditioned for D.'s duly accounting to E. D. makes default to the extent of $30,000. A., B., and C. are each liable to pay $10,000.

(b) A., B., and C., as sureties for D., enter into three several bonds, each in a different penalty—namely, A. in the penalty of $10,000, B. in that of $20,000, C. in that of $40,000, conditioned for D.'s duly accounting to E. D. makes default to the extent of $40,000. A. is liable to pay $10,000, and B. and C. $15,000.

(c) A., B., and C., as sureties for D., enter into three several bonds, each in a different penalty—namely, A. in the penalty of $10,000, B. in that of $20,000, C. in that of $40,000, conditioned for D.'s duly accounting to E. D. makes default to the extent of $70,000. A., B., and C. have to pay each the full penalty of his bond.

CHAPTER VIII
OF BAILMENT.

101. A "bailment" is the delivery of goods by one person to another for some purpose, upon a contract that they shall, when the purpose is accomplished, be returned or otherwise disposed of according to the directions of the person delivering them. The person delivering the goods is called the "bailor". The person to whom they are delivered is called the "bailee".

"Bailment", "bailor", and "bailee" defined.

Explanation.—If a person already in possession of the goods of another contracts to hold them as a bailee, he thereby becomes the bailee, and the owner becomes the bailor, of such goods, although they may not have been delivered by way of bailment.

Delivery to bailee how made.

102. The delivery to the bailee may be made by doing anything which has the effect of putting the goods in the possession of the intended bailee or of any person authorised to hold them on his behalf.

Bailor's duty to disclose faults in goods bailed.

103. The bailor is bound to disclose to the bailee faults in the goods bailed, of which the bailor is aware, and which materially interfere with the use of them, or expose the bailee to extraordinary risks; and, if he does not make such disclosure, he is responsible for damage arising to the bailee directly from such faults.

If the goods are bailed for hire, the bailor is responsible for such damage, whether he was or was not aware of the existence of such faults in the goods bailed.

Illustrations.

(a) A. lends a horse, which he knows to be vicious, to B. He does not disclose the fact that the horse is vicious. The horse runs away. B. is thrown and injured. A. is responsible to B. for damage sustained.

(b) A. hires a carriage of B. The carriage is unsafe, though B. is not aware of it, and A. is injured. B. is responsible to A. for the injury.

Care to be taken by bailee.

104. In all cases of bailment the bailee is bound to take as much care of the goods bailed to him as a man of ordinary prudence would, under similar circumstances, take of his own goods of the same bulk, quality, and value as the goods bailed.

Bailee when not liable for loss, etc., of thing bailed.

105. The bailee, in the absence of any special contract, is not responsible for the loss, destruction, or deterioration of the thing bailed, if he has taken the amount of care of it described in section 104 of this Ordinance.

Termination
of bailment
by bailee's act inconsistent with conditions.

106. A contract of bailment is voidable at the option of the bailor, if the bailee does any act with regard to the goods bailed, inconsistent with the conditions of the bailment.

Illustration.

A. lets to B., for hire, a horse for his own riding. B. drives the horse in his carriage. This is, at the option of A., a termination of the bailment.

107. If the bailee makes any use of the goods bailed, which is not according to the conditions of the bailment, he is liable to make compensation to the bailor for any damage arising to the goods from or during such use of them.

bailee
making unauthorised use of goods bailed.

Illustrations.

(a) A. lends a horse to B. for his own riding only. B. allows C., a member of his family, to ride the horse. C. rides with care, but the horse accidentally falls and is injured. B. is liable to make compensation to A. for the injury done to the horse.

(b) A. hires a horse in Taiping from B. expressly to march to Kuala Kangsar. A. rides with due care, but marches to Parit Buntar instead. The horse accidentally falls and is injured. A. is liable to make compensation to B. for the injury to the horse.

108. If the bailee, with the consent of the bailor, mixes the goods of the bailor with his own goods, the bailor and the bailee shall have an interest, in proportion to their respective shares, in the mixture thus produced.

Effect of mixture, with bailor's consent, of his goods with bailee's.

109. If the bailee, without the consent of the bailor, mixes the goods of the bailor with his own goods, and the goods can be separated or divided, the property in the goods remains in the parties respectively; but the bailee is bound to bear the expense of separation or division, and any damage arising from the mixture.

mixture, without bailor's
consent, when the goods can be separated.

Illustration.

A. bails 100 bales of cotton marked with a particular mark to B. B., without A.'s consent, mixes the 100 bales with other bales of his own, bearing a different mark: A. is entitled to have his 100 bales returned, and B. is bound to bear all the expenses incurred in the separation of the bales, and any other incidental damage.

110. If the bailee, without the consent of the bailor, mixes the goods of the bailor with his own goods, in such a manner that it is impossible to separate the goods bailed from the other goods and deliver them back, the bailor is entitled to be compensated by the bailee for the loss of the goods.

mixture,
without bailor's
consent,
when the goods cannot be separated.

Illustration.

A. bails a barrel of Cape flour, worth $45, to B. B., without A.'s consent, mixes the flour with country flour of his own, worth only $25 a barrel. B. must compensate A. for the loss of his flour.

111. Where, by the conditions of the bailment, the goods are to be kept or to be carried, or to have work done upon them by the bailee for the bailor, and the bailee is to receive no remuneration, the bailor shall repay to the bailee the necessary expenses incurred by him for the purpose of the bailment.

Repayment
by bailor of necessary expenses.

Restoration of goods lent
gratuitously.

112. The lender of a thing for use may at any time require its return, if the loan was gratuitous, even though he lent it for a specified time or purpose. But if, on the faith of such loan made for a specified time or purpose, the borrower has acted in such a manner that the return of the thing lent before the time agreed upon would cause him loss exceeding the benefit actually derived by him from the loan, the lender must, if he compels the return, indemnify the borrower for the amount in which the loss so occasioned exceeds the benefit so derived.

Return of goods
bailed, on expiration of time or accomplishment of purpose.

113. It is the duty of the bailee to return, or deliver according to the bailor's directions, the goods bailed, without demand, as soon as the time for which they were bailed has expired, or the purpose for which they were bailed has been accomplished.

responsibility
when goods are not duly returned.

114. If, by the fault of the bailee, the goods are not returned, delivered, or tendered at the proper time, he is responsible to the bailor for any loss, destruction, or deterioration of the goods from that time.

Termination
of gratuitous bailment by death.

115. A gratuitous bailment is terminated by the death either of the bailor or of the bailee.

Bailor entitled to increase or profit from goods
bailed.

116. In the absence of any contract to the contrary, the bailee is bound to deliver to the bailor, or according to his directions, any increase or profit which may have accrued from the goods bailed.

Illustration.

A. leaves a cow in the custody of B. to be taken care of. The cow has a calf. B. is bound to deliver the calf as well as the cow to A.

to bailee.

117. The bailor is responsible to the bailee for any loss which the bailee may sustain by reason that the bailor was not entitled to make the bailment, or to receive back the goods, or to give directions respecting them.

Bailment by several joint owners.

118. If several joint owners of goods bail them, the bailee may deliver them back to, or according to the directions of, one joint owner without the consent of all, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary.

Bailee not responsible on re-delivery to bailor
title.

119. If the bailor has no title to the goods, and the bailee, in good faith, delivers them back to, or according to the directions of, the bailor, the bailee is not responsible to the owner in respect of such delivery.

120. If a person, other than the bailor, claims goods bailed, he may apply to the Court to stop the delivery of the goods to the bailor, and to decide the title to the goods.

Right of third person claiming goods bailed.

121. The finder of goods has no right to sue the owner for compensation for trouble and expense voluntarily incurred by him to preserve the goods and to find out the owner; but he may retain the goods against the owner until he receives such compensation; and, where the owner has offered a specific reward for the return of goods lost, the finder may sue for such reward, and may retain the goods until he receives it.

Right of finder of goods;

may sue for specific reward offered.

122. When a thing which is commonly the subject of sale is lost, if the owner cannot with reasonable diligence be found, or if he refuses, upon demand, to pay the lawful charges of the finder, the finder may sell it—

When finder of thing commonly on sale may sell it.

(a) when the thing is in danger of perishing or of losing the greater part of its value; or

(b) when the lawful charges of the finder, in respect of the thing found, amount to two-thirds of its value.

123. Where the bailee has, in accordance with the purpose of the bailment, rendered any service involving the exercise of labour or skill in respect of the goods bailed, he has, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, a right to retain such goods until he receives due remuneration for the services he has rendered in respect of them.

Bailee's particular lien.

Illustrations.

(a) A. delivers a rough diamond to B., a jeweller, to be cut and polished, which is accordingly done. B. is entitled to retain the stone till he is paid for the services he has rendered.

(b) A. gives cloth to B., a tailor, to make into a coat. B. promises A. to deliver the coat as soon as it is finished, and to give a three months' credit for the price. B. is not entitled to retain the coat until he is paid.

124. Bankers, factors, wharfingers, advocates and solicitors, and policy-brokers may, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, retain, as a security for a general balance of account, any goods bailed to them; but no other persons have a right to retain, as a security for such balance, goods bailed to them, unless there is an express contract to that effect.

General lien of bankers, factors, wharfingers, solicitors, and policy-brokers.

BAILMENTS OF PLEDGES.

"Pledge",
"pawnor",
and "pawnee"
defined.

125. The bailment of goods as security for payment of a debt or performance of a promise is called "pledge". The bailor is in this case called the "pawnor". The bailee is called the "pawnee".

retainer.

126. The pawnee may retain the goods pledged, not only for payment of the debt or the performance of the promise, but for the interest of the debt, and all necessary expenses incurred by him in respect of the possession or for the preservation of the goods pledged.

Pawnee not to retain for debt - or promise other than that for which goods pledged.
Presumption in case of subsequent advances.

127. The pawnee shall not, in the absence of a contract to that effect, retain the goods pledged for any debt or promise other than the debt or promise for which they are pledged; but such contract, in the absence of anything to the contrary, shall be presumed in regard to subsequent advances made by the pawnee.

Pawnee's
right as to extraordinary expenses
incurred.

128. The pawnee is entitled to receive from the pawnor extraordinary expenses incurred by him for the preservation of the goods pledged.

right where pawnor
makes default.

129. If the pawnor makes default in payment of the debt, or performance, at the stipulated time, of the promise in respect of which the goods were pledged, the pawnee may bring a suit against the pawnor upon the debt or promise, and retain the goods pledged as a collateral security; or he may sell the thing pledged, on giving the pawnor reasonable notice of the sale.

If the proceeds of such sale are less than the amount due in respect of the debt or promise, the pawnor is still liable to pay the balance. If the proceeds of the sale are greater than the amount so due, the pawnee shall pay over the surplus to the pawnor.

Defaulting
pawnor's
redeem.

130. If a time is stipulated for the payment of the debt, or performance of the promise, for which the pledge is made, and the pawnor makes default in payment of the debt or performance of the promise at the stipulated time, he may redeem the goods pledged at any subsequent time before the actual sale of them; but he must, in that case, pay, in addition, any expenses which have arisen from his default.

131. A person who is in possession of any goods, or of any bill of lading, dock-warrant, warehouse-keeper's certificate, wharfinger's certificate, or warrant or order for delivery, or any other document of title to goods, may make a valid pledge of such goods or documents:

Pledge by possessor of goods, or of documentary title to goods.

Provided that the pawnee acts in good faith, and under circumstances which are not such as to raise a reasonable presumption that the pawnor is acting improperly:

Provided also that such goods or documents have not been obtained from their lawful owner, or from any person in lawful custody of them, by means of an offence or fraud.

132. Where a person pledges goods in which he has only a limited interest, the pledge is valid to the extent of that interest.

Pledge where pawnor has only a limited interest.

SUITS BY BAILEES OR BAILORS AGAINST WRONG-DOERS.

133. If a third person wrongfully deprives the bailee of the use or possession of the goods bailed, or does them any injury, the bailee is entitled to use such remedies as the owner might have used in the like case if no bailment had been made; and either the bailor or the bailee may bring a suit against a third person for such deprivation or injury.

Suit by bailor or bailee against wrong-doer.

134. Whatever is obtained by way of relief or compensation in any such suit shall, as between the bailor and the bailee, be dealt with according to their respective interests.

Apportionment of relief or compensation obtained by such suits.

CHAPTER IX.

AGENCY.

APPOINTMENT AND AUTHORITY OF AGENTS.

135. An "agent" is a person employed to do any act for another or to represent another in dealings with third persons. The person for whom such act is done, or who is so represented, is called the "principal".

"Agent" and "principal" defined.

136. Any person who is of the age of majority according to the law to which he is subject, and who is of sound mind, may employ an agent.

Who may employ agent.

Who may be an agent.

137. As between the principal and third persons, any person may become an agent; but no person who is not of the age of majority and of sound mind can become an agent, so as to be responsible to his principal according to the provisions in that behalf herein contained.

Consideration not necessary.

138. No consideration is necessary to create an agency.

Agent's
authority may be expressed

139. The authority of an agent may be expressed or implied.

Definitions of express and implied
authority.

140. An authority is said to be express when it is given by words spoken or written. An authority is said to be implied when it is to be inferred from the circumstances of the case; and things spoken or written, or the ordinary course of dealing, may be accounted circumstances of the case.

Illustration.

A. owns a shop in Kajang, living himself in Kuala Lumpur, and visiting the shop occasionally. The shop is managed by B., and he is in the habit of ordering goods from C. in the name of A. for the purpose of the shop, and of paying for them out of A.'s funds with A.'s knowledge. B. has an implied authority from A. to order goods from C. in the name of A. for the purposes of the shop.

Extent of agent's
authority.

141. An agent having an authority to do an act has authority to do every lawful thing which is necessary in order to do such act.

An agent having an authority to carry on a business has authority to do every lawful thing necessary for the purpose, or usually done in the course of conducting such business.

Illustrations.

(a) A. is employed by B., residing in London, to recover at Telok Anson a debt due to B. A. may adopt any legal process necessary for the purpose of recovering the debt, and may give a valid discharge for the same.

(b) A. constitutes B. his agent to carry on his business of a shipbuilder. B. may purchase timber and other materials, and hire workmen, for the purpose of carrying on the business.

142. An agent has authority, in an emergency, to do all such acts for the purpose of protecting his principal from loss as would be done by a person of ordinary prudence, in his own case, under similar circumstances.

(a) An agent for sale may have goods repaired if it be necessary.

(b) A. consigns provisions to B. at Taiping, with directions to send them immediately to C. at Parit Buntar. B. may sell the provisions at Taiping, if they will not bear the journey to Parit Buntar without spoiling.

SUB-AGENTS.

143. An agent cannot lawfully employ another to perform acts which he has expressly or impliedly undertaken to perform personally, unless by the ordinary custom of trade a sub-agent may, or, from the nature of the agency, a sub-agent must, be employed.

When agent cannot delegate.

144. A "sub-agent" is a person employed by, and acting under the control of, the original agent in the business of the agency.

"Sub-agent"
defined.

145. Where a sub-agent is properly appointed, the principal is, so far as regards third persons, represented by the sub-agent, and is bound by and responsible for his acts, as if he were an agent originally appointed by the principal.

Representation of

The agent is responsible to the principal for the acts of the sub-agent.

Agent's
responsibility for sub-agent.

The sub-agent is responsible for his acts to the agent, but not to the principal, except in case of fraud or wilful wrong.

Sub-agent's
responsibility.

146. Where an agent, without having authority to do so, has appointed a person to act as a sub-agent, the agent stands towards such person in the relation of a principal to an agent, and is responsible for his acts both to the principal and to third persons; the principal is not represented by or responsible for the acts of the person so employed, nor is that person responsible to the principal.

Who may be
an agent.

137. As between the principal and third persons, any person may become an agent; but no person who is not of the age of majority and of sound mind can become an agent, so as to be responsible to his principal according to the provisions in that behalf herein contained.

Consideration not necessary.

138. No consideration is necessary to create an agency.

Agent's
authority
may be expressed or implied.

139. The authority of an agent may be expressed or implied.

Relation between principal and person duly appointed by agent to act in business
of agency.

147. Where an agent, holding an express or implied authority to name another person to act for the principal in the business of the agency, has named another person accordingly, such person is not a sub-agent, but an agent of the principal for such part of the business of the agency as is entrusted to him.

Illustrations.

(a) A. directs B., his solicitor, to sell his estate by auction, and to employ an auctioneer for the purpose. B. names C., an auctioneer, to conduct the sale. C. is not a sub-agent, but is A.'s agent for the conduct of the sale.

(b) A. authorises B., a merchant in Taiping, to recover the moneys due to A. from C. & Co. B. instructs D., a solicitor, to take legal proceedings against C. & Co. for the recovery of the money. D. is not a sub-agent, but is solicitor for A.

Agent's duty
in naming such person.

148. In selecting such agent for his principal, an agent is bound to exercise the same amount of discretion as a man of ordinary prudence would exercise in his own case; and, if he does this, he is not responsible to the principal for the acts or negligence of the agent so selected.

Illustrations.

(a) A. instructs B., a merchant, to buy a ship for him. B. employs a ship surveyor of good reputation to choose a ship for A. The surveyor makes the choice negligently and the ship turns out to be unseaworthy and is lost. B. is not, but the surveyor is, responsible to A.

(b) A. consigns goods to B., a merchant, for sale. B., in due course, employs an auctioneer in good credit to sell the goods of A., and allows the auctioneer to receive the proceeds of the sale. The auctioneer afterwards becomes insolvent without having accounted for the proceeds. B. is not responsible to A. for the proceeds.

RATIFICATION.

Right of person as to acts done for him without his authority.
Effect of
ratification.

149. Where acts are done by one person on behalf of another but without his knowledge or authority, he may elect to ratify or to disown such acts. If he ratify them, the same effects will follow as if they had been performed by his authority.

Ratification
may be expressed
or implied.

150. Ratification may be expressed or may be implied in the conduct of the person on whose behalf the acts are done.

Illustrations.

(a) A., without authority, buys goods for B. Afterwards B. sells them to C. on his own account; B.'s conduct implies a ratification of the purchase made for him by A.

(b) A., without B.'s authority, lends B.'s money to C. Afterwards B. accepts interest on the money from C. B.'s conduct implies a ratification of the loan.

151. No valid ratification can be made by a person whose knowledge of the facts of the case is materially defective.

Knowledge requisite to valid ratification.

152. A person ratifying any unauthorised act done on his behalf ratifies the whole of the transaction of which such act formed a part.

Effect of ratifying unauthorised act forming part of a transaction.

153. An act done by one person on behalf of another, without such other person's authority, which, if done with authority, would have the effect of subjecting a third person to damages, or of terminating any right or interest of a third person, cannot, by ratification, be made to have such effect.

Ratification of unauthorised act cannot injure third person.

Illustrations.

(a) A., not being authorised thereto by B., demands on behalf of B., the delivery of a chattel, the property of B., from C., who is in possession of it. This demand cannot be ratified by B., so as to make C. liable for damages for his refusal to deliver.

(b) A. holds a lease from B., terminable on three months' notice. C., an unauthorised person, gives notice of termination to A. The notice cannot be ratified by B., so as to be binding on A.

REVOCATION OF AUTHORITY.

154. An agency is terminated by the principal revoking his authority; or by the agent renouncing the business of the agency; or by the business of the agency being completed; or by either the principal or agent dying or becoming of unsound mind; or by the principal being adjudicated or declared a bankrupt or an insolvent.

Termination of agency.

155. Where the agent has himself an interest in the property which forms the subject-matter of the agency, the agency cannot, in the absence of an express contract, be terminated to the prejudice of such interest.

Termination of agency, where agent has an interest in subject-matter.

Illustrations.

(a) A. gives authority to B. to sell A.'s land, and to pay himself, out of the proceeds, the debts due to him from A. A. cannot revoke this authority, nor can it be terminated by his unsoundness of mind or death.

(b) A. consigns 1,000 bales of cotton to B., who has made advances to him on such cotton, and desires B. to sell the cotton, and to repay himself out of the price the amount of his own advances. A. cannot revoke this authority nor is it terminated by his unsoundness of mind or death.

When principal may revoke agent's authority.

156. The principal may, save as is otherwise provided by the last preceding section, revoke the authority given to his agent at any time before the authority has been exercised so as to bind the principal.

Revocation where authority has been partly exercised.

157. The principal cannot revoke the authority given to his agent after the authority has been partly exercised, so far as regards such acts and obligations as arise from acts already done in the agency.

Illustrations.

(a) A. authorises B. to buy 1,000 bales of cotton on account of A., and to pay for it out of A.'s money remaining in B.'s hands. B. buys 1,000 bales of cotton in his own name, so as to make himself personally liable for the price. A. cannot revoke B.'s authority so far as regards payment for the cotton.

(b) A. authorises B. to buy 1,000 bales of cotton on account of A., and to pay for it out of A.'s money remaining in B.'s hands. B. buys 1,000 bales of cotton in A.'s name, and so as not to render himself personally liable for the price. A. can revoke B.'s authority to pay for the cotton.

Compensation for revocation by principal or renunciation by agent.

158. Where there is an express or implied contract that the agency should be continued for any period of time, the principal must make compensation to the agent, or the agent to the principal, as the case may be, for any previous revocation or renunciation of the agency without sufficient cause.

Notice of revocation or renunciation.

159. Reasonable notice must be given of such revocation or renunciation; otherwise the damage thereby resulting to the principal or the agent, as the case may be, must be made good to the one by the other.

Revocation and renunciation may be expressed or implied.

160. Revocation and renunciation may be expressed or may be implied in the conduct of the principal or agent, respectively.

Illustration.

A. empowers B. to let A.'s house. Afterwards A. lets it himself. This is an implied revocation of B.'s authority.

When termination of agent's authority takes effect as to agent, and as to third persons.

161. The termination of the authority of an agent does not, so far as regards the agent, take effect before it becomes known to him, or, so far as regards third persons, before it becomes known to them.

Illustrations.

(a) A. directs B. to sell goods for him, and agrees to give B. 5 per cent. commission on the price fetched by the goods. A. afterwards, by letter, revokes B.'s authority. B., after the letter is sent, but before he receives it, sells the goods for $100. The sale is binding on A., and B. is entitled to $5 as his commission.

(b) A., at Port Dickson, by letter directs B. to sell for him some cotton lying in a warehouse in Klang, and afterwards, by letter, revokes his authority to sell, and directs B. to send the cotton to Port Dickson. B., after receiving the second letter, enters into a contract with C., who knows of the first letter, but not of the second, for the sale to him of the cotton. C. pays B. the money, with which B. absconds. C.'s payment is good as against A.

(c) A. directs B., his agent, to pay certain money to C. A. dies, and D. takes out probate to his will. B., after A.'s death, but before hearing of it, pays the money to C. The payment is good as against D., the executor.

162. When an agency is terminated by the principal dying or becoming of unsound mind, the agent is bound to take, on behalf of the representatives of his late principal, all reasonable steps for the protection and preservation of the interests entrusted to him.

Agent's duty on termination of agency by principal's death or insanity.

163. The termination of the authority of an agent causes the termination (subject to the rules herein contained regarding the termination of an agent's authority) of the authority of all sub-agents appointed by him.

Termination of sub-agent's authority.

AGENT'S DUTY TO PRINCIPAL.

164. An agent is bound to conduct the business of his principal according to the directions given by the principal, or, in the absence of any such directions, according to the custom which prevails in doing business of the same kind at the place where the agent conducts such business. When the agent acts otherwise, if any loss be sustained, he must make it good to his principal, and, if any profit accrues, he must account for it.

Agent's duty in conducting principal's business.

Illustrations.

(a) A., an agent engaged in carrying on for B. a business, in which it is the custom to invest from time to time, at interest, the moneys which may be in hand, omits to make such investment. A. must make good to B. the interest usually obtained by such investments.

(b) B., a broker, in whose business it is not the custom to sell on credit, sells goods of A. on credit to C., whose credit at the time was very high. C., before payment, becomes insolvent. B. must make good the loss to A.

165. An agent is bound to conduct the business of the agency with as much skill as is generally possessed by persons engaged in similar business, unless the principal has notice of his want of skill. The agent is always bound to act with reasonable diligence, and to use such skill as he possesses; and to make compensation to his principal in respect of the direct consequences of his own neglect, want of skill, or misconduct, but not in respect of loss or damage which are indirectly or remotely caused by such neglect, want of skill, or misconduct.

Illustrations.

(a) A., a merchant in Kuala Lumpur, has an agent, B., in London, to whom a sum of money is paid on A.'s account, with orders to remit. B. retains the money for a considerable time. A., in consequence of not receiving the money, becomes insolvent. B. is liable for the money and interest from the day on which it ought to have been paid, according to the usual rate, and for any further direct loss—as, e.g., by variation of rate of exchange—but not further.

(b) A., an agent for the sale of goods, having authority to sell on credit, sells to B. on credit, without making the proper and usual enquiries as to the solvency of B. B., at the time of such sale, is insolvent. A. must make compensation to his principal in respect of any loss thereby sustained.

(c) A., an insurance-broker employed by B. to effect an insurance on a ship, omits to see that the usual clauses are inserted in the policy. The ship is afterwards lost. In consequence of the omission of the clauses nothing can be recovered from the underwriters. A. is bound to make good the loss to B.

(d) A., a merchant in England, directs B., his agent at Klang, who accepts the agency, to send him 100 bales of cotton by a certain ship. B., having it in his power to send the cotton, omits to do so. The ship arrives safely in England. Soon after her arrival the price of cotton rises. B. is bound to make good to A. the profit which he might have made by the 100 bales of cotton at the time the ship arrived, but not any profit he might have made by the subsequent rise.

Agent's
accounts.

166. An agent is bound to render proper accounts to his principal on demand.

Agent's duty
cate with principal.

167. It is the duty of an agent, in cases of difficulty, to use all reasonable diligence in communicating with his principal, and in seeking to obtain his instructions.

Right of principal when agent
deals, on his own account,
in business
of agency
without principal's
consent.

168. If an agent deals on his own account in the business of the agency, without first obtaining the consent of his principal and acquainting him with all material circumstances which have come to his own knowledge on the subject, the principal may repudiate the transaction, if the case shows either that any material fact has been dishonestly concealed from him by the agent, or that the dealings of the agent have been disadvantageous to him.

Illustrations.

(a) A. directs B. to sell A.'s estate. B. buys the estate for himself in the name of C. A., on discovering that B. has bought the estate for himself, may repudiate the sale, if he can show that B. has dishonestly concealed any material fact, or that the sale has been disadvantageous to him.

(b) A. directs B. to sell A.'s estate. B., on looking over the estate before selling it, finds a mine on the estate which is unknown to A. B. informs A. that he wishes to buy the estate for himself, but conceals the discovery of the mine. A. allows B. to buy, in ignorance of the existence of the mine. A., on discovering that B. knew of the mine at the time he bought the estate, may either repudiate or adopt the sale at his option.

169. If an agent, without the knowledge of his principal, deals in the business of the agency on his own account instead of on account of his principal, the principal is entitled to claim from the agent any benefit which may have resulted to him from the transaction.

Principal's right to benefit gained by agent dealing on his own account in business of agency.

Illustration.

A. directs B., his agent, to buy a certain house for him. B. tells A. it cannot be bought, and buys the house for himself. A. may, on discovering that B. has bought the house, compel him to sell it to A. at the price he gave for it.

170. An agent may retain, out of any sums received on account of the principal in the business of the agency, all moneys due to himself in respect of advances made or expenses properly incurred by him in conducting such business, and also such remuneration as may be payable to him for acting as agent.

Agent's right of retainer out of sums received on principal's account.

171. Subject to such deductions, the agent is bound to pay to his principal all sums received on his account.

Agent's duty to pay sums received for principal.

172. In the absence of any special contract, payment for the performance of any act is not due to the agent until the completion of such act; but an agent may detain moneys received by him on account of goods sold, although the whole of the goods consigned to him for sale may not have been sold, or although the sale may not be actually complete.

When agent's remuneration becomes due.

173. An agent who is guilty of misconduct in the business of the agency is not entitled to any remuneration in respect of that part of the business which he has misconducted.

Agent not entitled to remuneration for business misconducted.

Illustrations.

(a) A. employs B. to recover $100,000 from C., and to lay it out on good security. B. recovers the $100,000 and lays out $90,000 on good security, but lays out $10,000 on security which he ought to have known to be bad, whereby A. loses

$2,000. B. is entitled to remuneration for recovering the $100,000 and for investing the $90,000. He is not entitled to any remuneration for investing the $10,000, and he must make good the $2,000 to A.

(b) A. employs B. to recover $1,000 from C. Through B.'s misconduct the money is not recovered. B. is entitled to no remuneration for his services, and must make good the loss.

Agent's
lien on
property.

174. In the absence of any contract to the contrary, an agent is entitled to retain goods, papers, and other property, whether movable or immovable, of the principal received by him, until the amount due to himself for commission, disbursements, and services in respect of the same has been paid or accounted for to him.

PRINCIPAL'S DUTY TO AGENT.

Agent
to be indemnified against consequences of lawful acts.

175. The employer of an agent is bound to indemnify him against the consequences of all lawful acts done by such agent in exercise of the authority conferred upon him.

Illustrations.

(a) B., at Klang, under instructions from A., of Taiping, contracts with C. to deliver certain goods to him. A. does not send the goods to B., and C. sues B. for breach of contract. B. informs A. of the suit, and A. authorises him to defend the suit. B. defends the suit, and is compelled to pay damages and costs, and incurs expenses. A. is liable to B. for such damages, costs, and expenses.

(b) B., a broker at Taiping, by the orders of A., a merchant there, contracts with C. for the purchase of 10 casks of oil for A. Afterwards A. refuses to receive the oil, and C. sues B. B. informs A., who repudiates the contract altogether. B. defends, but unsuccessfully, and has to pay damages and costs, and incurs expenses. A. is liable to B. for such damages, costs, and expenses.

Agent to be indemnified
against consequences
of acts done in good faith.

176. Where one person employs another to do an act, and the agent does the act in good faith, the employer is liable to indemnify the agent against the consequences of that act, though it cause an injury to the rights of third persons.

Illustrations.

(a) A., a decree-holder and entitled to execution of B.'s goods, requires the officer of the Court to seize certain goods, representing them to be the goods of B. The officer seizes the goods, and is sued by C., the true owner of the goods. A. is liable to indemnify the officer for the sum which he is compelled to pay to C., in consequence of obeying A.'s directions.

(b) B., at the request of A., sells goods in the possession of A., but which A. had no right to dispose of. B. does not know this, and hands over the proceeds of the sale to A. Afterwards C., the true owner of the goods, sues B. and recovers the value of the goods and costs. A. is liable to indemnify B. for what he has been compelled to pay to C. and for B.'s own expenses.

177. Where one person employs another to do an act which is criminal, the employer is not liable to the agent, either upon an express or an implied promise, to indemnify him against the consequences of that act.

Non-liability of employer of agent to do a criminal act.

Illustrations.

(a) A. employs B. to beat C., and agrees to indemnify him against all consequences of the act. B. thereupon beats C., and has to pay damages to C. for so doing. A. is not liable to indemnify B. for those damages.

(b) B., the proprietor of a newspaper, publishes, at A.'s request, a libel upon C. in the paper, and A. agrees to indemnify B. against the consequences of the publication, and all costs and damages of any action in respect thereof. B. is sued by C. and has to pay damages, and also incurs expenses. A. is not liable to B. upon the indemnity.

178. The principal must make compensation to his agent in respect of injury caused to such agent by the principal's neglect or want of skill.

Compensation to agent for injury caused by principal's neglect.

Illustration.

A. employs B. as bricklayer in building a house, and puts up the scaffolding himself. The scaffolding is unskilfully put up, and B. is in consequence hurt. A. must make compensation to B.

EFFECT OF AGENCY ON CONTRACT WITH THIRD PERSONS.

179. Contracts entered into through an agent, and obligations arising from acts done by an agent, may be enforced in the same manner, and will have the same legal consequences as if the contracts had been entered into and the acts done by the principal in person.

Enforcement and consequences of agent's contracts

Illustrations.

(a) A. buys goods from B., knowing that he is an agent for their sale, but not knowing who is the principal. B.'s principal is the person entitled to claim from A. the price of the goods, and A. cannot, in a suit by the principal, set-off against that claim a debt due to himself from B.

(b) A., being B.'s agent, with authority to receive money on his behalf, receives from C. a sum of money due to B. C. is discharged of his obligation to pay the sum in question to B.

Principal
how far bound when agent exceeds
authority.

180. When an agent does more than he is authorised to do, and when the part of what he does, which is within his authority, can be separated from the part which is beyond his authority, so much only of what he does as is within his authority is binding as between him and his principal.

Illustration.

A., being owner of a ship and cargo, authorises B. to procure an insurance for $4,000 on the ship. B. procures a policy for $4,000 on the ship, and another for the like sum on the cargo. A. is bound to pay the premium for the policy on the ship, but not the premium for the policy on the cargo.

Principal
not bound when excess of agent's authority is not separable.

181. Where an agent does more than he is authorised to do, and what he does beyond the scope of his authority cannot be separated from what is within it, the principal is not bound to recognise the transaction.

Illustration.

A. authorises B. to buy 500 sheep for him. B. buys 500 sheep and 200 lambs for one sum of $6,000. A. may repudiate the whole transaction.

Consequences of notice given to agent.

182. Any notice given to or information obtained by the agent, provided it be given or obtained in the course of the business transacted by him for the principal, shall, as between the principal and third parties, have the same legal consequence as if it had been given to or obtained by the principal.

Illustrations.

(a) A. is employed by B. to buy from C. certain goods, of which C. is the apparent owner, and buys them accordingly. In the course of the treaty for the sale, A. learns that the goods really belonged to D., but B. is ignorant of that fact. B. is not entitled to set-off a debt owing to him from C. against the price of the goods.

(b) A. is employed by B. to buy from C. goods of which C. is the apparent owner. A. was, before he was so employed, a servant of C., and then learnt that the goods really belonged to D., but B. is ignorant of that fact. In spite of the knowledge of his agent, B. may set-off against the price of the goods a debt owing to him from C.

183. In the absence of any contract to that effect, an agent cannot personally enforce contracts entered into by him on behalf of his principal, nor is he personally bound by them.

Agent cannot personally enforce, nor be bound by, contracts on behalf of principal.

Such a contract shall be presumed to exist in the following cases—

- (a) where the contract is made by an agent for the sale or purchase of goods for a merchant resident abroad;
- (b) where the agent does not disclose the name of his principal;
- (c) where the principal, though disclosed, cannot be sued.

Presumption of contract to contrary.

184. If an agent makes a contract with a person who neither knows, nor has reason to suspect, that he is an agent, his principal may require the performance of the contract; but the other contracting party has, as against the principal, the same rights as he would have had as against the agent if the agent had been principal.

Rights of parties to a contract made by agent not disclosed.

If the principal discloses himself before the contract is completed, the other contracting party may refuse to fulfil the contract, if he can show that, if he had known who was the principal in the contract, or if he had known that the agent was not a principal, he would not have entered into the contract.

185. Where one man makes a contract with another, neither knowing nor having reasonable ground to suspect that the other is an agent, the principal, if he requires the performance of the contract, can only obtain such performance subject to the rights and obligations subsisting between the agent and the other party to the contract.

Performance of contract with agent supposed to be principal.

Illustration.

A., who owes $500 to B., sells $1,000 worth of rice to B. A. is acting as agent for C. in the transaction, but B. has no knowledge nor reasonable ground of suspicion that such is the case. C. cannot compel B. to take the rice without allowing him to set-off A.'s debt.

186. In cases where the agent is personally liable, a person dealing with him may hold either him or his principal, or both of them, liable.

Right of person dealing with agent personally liable.

Illustration.

A. enters into a contract with B. to sell him 100 bales of cotton, and afterwards discovers that B. was acting as agent for C. A. may sue either B. or C., or both, for the price of the cotton.

Consequence of inducing agent, or principal to act on belief that principal or agent will be held exclusively liable.

Liability of pretended agent.

Person falsely contracting as agent not entitled to performance.

Liability of principal inducing belief that agent's unauthorised acts were authorised.

Effect, on agreement, of misrepresentation or fraud by agent.

187. When a person who has made a contract with an agent induces the agent to act upon the belief that the principal only will be held liable, or induces the principal to act upon the belief that the agent only will be held liable, he cannot afterwards hold liable the agent or principal, respectively.

188. A person untruly representing himself to be the authorised agent of another, and thereby inducing a third person to deal with him as such agent, is liable, if his alleged employer does not ratify his acts, to make compensation to the other in respect of any loss or damage which he has incurred by so dealing.

189. A person with whom a contract has been entered into in the character of agent is not entitled to require the performance of it if he was in reality acting, not as agent, but on his own account.

190. When an agent has, without authority, done acts or incurred obligations to third persons on behalf of his principal, the principal is bound by such acts or obligation if he has by his words or conduct induced such third persons to believe that such acts and obligations were within the scope of the agent's authority.

Illustrations.

(a) A. consigns goods to B. for sale, and gives him instructions not to sell under a fixed price. C., being ignorant of B.'s instructions, enters into a contract with B. to buy the goods at a price lower than the reserved price. A. is bound by the contract.

(b) A. entrusts B. with negotiable instruments endorsed in blank. B. sells them to C. in violation of private orders from A. The sale is good.

191. Misrepresentations made, or frauds committed, by agents acting in the course of their business for their principals, have the same effect on agreements made by such agents as if such misrepresentations or frauds had been made or committed by the principals; but misrepresentations made, or frauds committed, by agents, in matters which do not fall within their authority, do not affect their principals.

Illustrations.

(a) A., being B.'s agent for the sale of goods, induces C. to buy them by a misrepresentation, which he was not authorised by B. to make. The contract is voidable, as between B. and C., at the option of C.

(b) A., the captain of B.'s ship, signs bills of lading without having received on board the goods mentioned therein. The bills of lading are void as between B. and the pretended consignor.

CHAPTER X
OF PARTNERSHIP.

192. "Partnership" is the relation which subsists between persons who have agreed to combine their property, labour, or skill in some business, and to share the profits thereof between them. "Partnership" defined.

Persons who have entered into partnership with one another are called collectively a "firm". "Firm" defined.

Illustrations.

(a) A. and B. buy 100 bales of cotton, which they agree to sell for their joint account; A. and B. are partners in respect of such cotton.

(b) A. and B. buy 100 bales of cotton, agreeing to share it between them. A. and B. are not partners.

(c) A. agrees with B., a goldsmith, to buy and furnish gold to B., to be worked up by him and sold, and that they shall share in the resulting profit or loss. A. and B. are partners.

(d) A. and B. agree to work together as carpenters, but that A. shall receive all profits and shall pay wages to B. A. and B. are not partners.

(e) A. and B. are joint owners of a ship. This circumstance does not make them partners.

193. A loan to a person engaged, or about to engage, in any trade or undertaking, upon a contract with such person that the lender shall receive interest at a rate varying with the profits, or that he shall receive a share of the profits, does not, of itself, constitute the lender a partner, or render him responsible as such. Lender not a partner by advancing money for share of profits.

194. In the absence of any contract to the contrary, property left by a retiring partner, or the representative of a deceased partner, to be used in the business is to be considered a loan within the meaning of the last preceding section. Property left in business by retiring partner, or deceased partner's representative.

195. No contract for the remuneration of a servant or agent of any person, engaged in any trade or undertaking, by a share of the profits of such trade or undertaking shall, of itself, render such servant or agent responsible as a partner therein, nor give him the rights of a partner. Servant or agent remunerated by share of profits not a partner.

196. No person, being a widow or child of a deceased partner of a trader, and receiving, by way of annuity, a proportion of the profits made by such trader in his business, shall, by reason only of such receipt, be deemed to be a partner of such trader, or be subject to any liabilities incurred by him. Widow or child of deceased partner receiving annuity out of profits not a partner.

The share of each partner in the partnership property is the value of his original contribution, increased or diminished by his share of profit or loss;

- (b) all partners are entitled to share equally in the profits of the partnership business, and must contribute equally towards the losses sustained by the partnership;
- (c) each partner has a right to take part in the management of the partnership business;
- (d) each partner is bound to attend diligently to the business of the partnership, and is not entitled to any remuneration for acting in such business;
- (e) when differences arise as to ordinary matters connected with the partnership business, the decision shall be according to the opinion of the majority of the partners; but no change in the nature of the business of the partnership can be made, except with the consent of all the partners;
- (f) no person can introduce a new partner into a firm without the consent of all the partners;
- (g) if, from any cause whatsoever, any member of a partnership ceases to be so, the partnership is dissolved as between all the other members;
- (h) unless the partnership has been entered into for a fixed term, any partner may retire from it at any time;
- (i) where a partnership has been entered into for a fixed term, no partner can, during such term, retire, except with the consent of all the partners, nor can he be expelled by his partners for any cause whatever, except by order of Court;
- (j) partnerships, whether entered into for a fixed term or not, are dissolved by the death of any partner.

When Court may dissolve partnership.

207. At the suit of a partner the Court may dissolve the partnership in the following cases—

- (a) when a partner becomes of unsound mind;
- (b) when a partner, other than the partner suing, has been adjudicated bankrupt under any law relating to bankruptcy;

- (c) when a partner, other than the partner suing, has done any act by which the whole interest of such partner is legally transferred to a third person;
- (d) when any partner becomes incapable of performing his part of the partnership contract;
- (e) when a partner, other than the partner suing, is guilty of gross misconduct in the affairs of the partnership or towards his partners;
- (f) when the business of the partnership can only be carried on at a loss.

208. A partnership is in all cases dissolved by its business being prohibited by law.

Dissolution of partnership by prohibition of business.

209. If a partnership entered into for a fixed term be continued after such term has expired, the rights and obligations of the partners will, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, remain the same as they were at the expiration of the term, so far as such rights and obligations can be applied to a partnership dissolvable at the will of any partner.

Rights and obligations of partners in partnership continued after expiry of term for which it was entered into.

210. Partners are bound to carry on the business of the partnership for the greatest common advantage, to be just and faithful to each other, and to render true accounts and full information of all things affecting the partnership to any partner or his legal representatives.

General duties of partners.

211. A partner must account to the firm for any benefit derived from a transaction affecting the partnership.

Account to firm of benefit derived from transaction affecting partnership.

Illustrations.

(a) A., B., and C. are partners in trade. C., without the knowledge of A. and B., obtains for his own sole benefit a lease of the house in which the partnership business is carried on. A. and B. are entitled to participate if they please, in the benefit of the lease.

(b) A., B., and C. carry on business together in partnership as merchants trading between Klang and London. D., a merchant in London, to whom they make their consignments, secretly allows C. a share of the commission which he receives upon such consignments, in consideration of C.'s using his influence to obtain the consignments for him. C. is liable to account to the firm for the money so received by him.

Obligations,
partner carrying on competing business.

212. If a partner, without the knowledge and consent of the other partners, carries on any business competing or interfering with that of the firm, he must account to the firm for all profits made in such business, and must make compensation to the firm for any loss occasioned thereby.

Revocation
guarantee
by change in firm.

213. A continuing guarantee, given either to a firm or to a third person, in respect of the transactions of a firm, is, in the absence of agreement to the contrary, revoked as to future transactions by any change in the constitution of the firm to which, or in respect of the transactions of which, such guarantee was given.

Non-liability of deceased partner's estate for subsequent obligations.

214. The estate of a partner who has died is not, in the absence of an express agreement, liable in respect of any obligation incurred by the firm after his death.

Payment of partnership debts, and of separate debts.

215. Where there are joint debts due from the partnership, and also separate debts due from any partner, the partnership property must be applied in the first instance in payment of the debts of the firm, and, if there is any surplus, then the share of each partner must be applied in payment of his separate debts or paid to him. The separate property of any partner must be applied first in the payment of his separate debts, and the surplus (if any) in the payment of the debts of the firm.

Continuance
of partners' rights and obligations after dissolution.

216. After a dissolution of partnership, the rights and obligations of the partners continue in all things necessary for winding-up the business of the partnership.

Notice of dissolution.

217. Persons dealing with a firm will not be affected by a dissolution of which no public notice has been given, unless they themselves had notice of such dissolution.

Winding up by Court on dissolution or after termination.

218. Where a partner is entitled to claim a dissolution of partnership, or where a partnership has terminated, the Court may, in the absence of any contract to the contrary, wind up the business of the partnership, provide for the payment of its debts, and distribute the surplus according to the shares of the partners, respectively.

219. Extraordinary partnerships, such as partnerships with limited liability, incorporated partnerships, and joint-stock companies, shall be regulated by the law for the time being in force relating thereto.

Limited liability partnerships, incorporated partnerships, and joint-stock companies.
